GOP Convention Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans made it official Friday that they will hold their 1972 national convention in Miami Beach, not San Diego, as originally scheduled.

The switch was accomplished with a unanimous vote of approval by the Republican National Committee after it was told that mounting costs and labor problems in San Diego made the change necessary.

Miami Beach thus will be host to both major party conventions, the Democrats starting July 10 and the Republicans on Aug. 21. It had originally bid for the Republican convention but lost out to San Diego, reportedly because President Nixon favored the California city.

Miami Beach Mayor Chuck Hall, two other city officials and the chief of police flew to Washington to invite the Republicans to Miami Beach, site of the 1968 convention.

The city has asked the federal government to provide a "convention peace corps" at least 1,000 strong to help local and state police keep order. The members would be drawn from the armed forces but given new, nonmilitary uniforms and special training.

Mayor Hall said the 4-3 vote in the Miami Beach City Council on extending the invitation to the Republicans reflected concern over security and not an unwillingness to have the Republicans come.

Richard L. Herman, vice president of the convention arrangements committee, who negotiated with both San Diego and Miami Beach, blamed the difficulties in San Diego on Peter Graham, owner of the sports arena in which the convention was to be held.

Herman said, "substantial disagreement" between the Republicans and Graham arose over plans for converting the arena into a convention site. As negotiations proceeded, he said, the cost to the Republicans increased to the point where they became exorbitant.

Pentagon About-Face

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon Friday left open the possibility that additional troops, most likely 7th Fleet Marines, might be landed in South Vietnam if Hanoi's offensive endangers the remaining American GIs.

Spokesman Jerry W. Friedhelm said Gen. Creighton Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, has authority to take whatever action necessary to protect the 68,000 American troops still in the war zone.

He indicated this could include bringing ashore as an emergency safety measure some or all of the 5,000 Marines now aboard 7th Fleet ships in the South China Sea.

Abrams, Friedhelm said, also could beef up U.S. combat strength in Vietnam by substituting some noncombat-support personnel with combat troops, provided within the approved manpower level set by President Nixon.

The Pentagon also said the United States will reopen a base in Thailand to handle the new increase in U.S. air power for the war in Southeast Asia. Friedhelm said the base at Takhli, north of Bangkok will be used again on an emergency basis. The site, he said, is the destination for 72 F4 phantom fighter bombers being flown from New Mexico. The base brings to six the total of U.S. bases for mounting strikes in Indochina.

Relying extensively on air power, the administration plans to cut troops strength in Vietnam to about 49,000 by July 1.

Since the start of the North Vietnamese offensive six weeks ago, both Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird have said repeatedly that no American combat ground troops would be sent back into the war zone.

Friedhelm reaffirmed that position only Monday when newsmen asked about the possibility of a Marine landing to protect U.S. forces. "That would be regarded as a reintroduction of ground forces and that's what the secretary of state said we would not do," he replied.

But Friday, Friedhelm refused to rule out that possibility, saying "I would not" consider such an action a resumption of U.S. ground combat responsibility.

N. Viet Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops battled the enemy for control of a vital highway in the central highlands Friday. In the north, a new commander took energetic measures to bolster the defenses of Hue, the old imperial capital.

In the central highlands, South Vietnamese airborne troops and infantry fought to reopen Highway 14, the vital link between Pleiku and the imperiled city of Kontum to the north.

Most of the fighting centered around the Chu Pao mountain pass, about eight miles south of Kontum and 19 miles north of military headquarters at Pleiku.

Government spokesmen claimed 75 enemy killed with the help of air strikes and artillery.

Associated Press correspondent David J. Paine reported from Pleiku that the action tapered off to sporadic clashes by nightfall.

South Vietnamese officers said earlier an operation launched Thursday had cleared the mountain pass and one troop convoy was reported to have made it through from Pleiku to Kontum, believed to be the first objective of an expected enemy offensive in the highlands.

At Hue, the newly named commander of northernmost military region 1, Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, began reorganizing and strengthening government positions and units.

The fighting to the north of Hue in Quang Tri Province, which climaxed Monday with the fall of the provincial capital, left many units battered and disorganized.

Associated Press correspondent Richard Blystone reported from Hue that there were only isolated clashes and some shelling attacks Friday along Highway 1, which leads from Hue to Quang Tri.

It generally is believed that North Vietnamese forces are regrouping and supplying before continuing their drive south toward Hue.

About 5,000 Marines are reported on ships offshore in the South China Sea.

Hijacker On Each Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two hijackers seized jetliners in separate parts of the country Friday, one demanding $300,000 ransom and parachutes and the other ordering that he be flown to Cuba.

An Eastern Airlines 727 jet was hijacked as it left Allentown, Pa., by a man who collected $300,000 ransom in bills up to $1,000 denominations, then ordered the plane from Washington, D.C., to New Orleans, La., with Air Force jets in pursuit.

The hijacker, who allowed the other 48 passengers and one stewardess to leave the plane at Dulles International Airport after collecting ransom money and six parachutes, was still aboard when the plane landed in New Orleans.

Airline spokesmen said that the hijacker wanted the plane loaded with full fuel and wanted to leave New Orleans as soon as possible, although it was not known what the gunman had in mind.

At one point the plane had returned to Dulles and refueled because the hijacker said he was unhappy that he did not get larger denomination bills. He was given larger bills during the second stop at Dulles.

As this drama unfolded, another gunman took over a Western Airlines 737 jet with 81 persons aboard during a flight from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles. After landing at Los Angeles International Airport, the aircraft, Flight 407, was taxied to a remote area where a Western spokesman said seven adult passengers and four children were allowed off.

Although the hijacker at first said he wanted to go to Hanoi in North Vietnam, he later ordered the plane flown to Cuba, authorities said. It took off from Los Angeles en route to Dallas, Tex.

The gunman claimed in a note that the hijacking was the work of "several heavily armed members of the anti-imperialist movement" who were threatening additional hijackings if U.S. military intervention in Indochina continues, but Western officials said they believed only one person was actively involved in the hijackings.

The day of airline turmoil also saw an Alitalia airliner full of Sicilians going home to vote in Sunday's national elections crash and burn on a Sicilian mountainside, killing all 115 persons aboard.

Eastern senior vice president Frank Borman, a former astronaut, said Air Force jets were pursuing the hijacked Boeing 727 and were being refueled in the air. Earlier, Pentagon sources had said two F106 interceptors had been sent to follow the plane.

Rogers: Cease-Fire Acceptable To U.S.

BRUSSELS (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers told the North Atlantic Council Friday the United States is willing to negotiate a cease-fire in Vietnam and leave political questions until later.

U.S. sources quoted him as saying that if the other side is serious, the United States is open-minded on how to negotiate.

Afterward, Rogers told reporters he does not expect the situation in Vietnam to bar President Nixon's visit to Moscow later this month.

"We expect the visit to take place," he asserted, adding that the Vietnam situation will be a factor in discussions in Moscow.

Rogers briefed the council on the President's plans for the trip. The U.S. sources said he touched on the points that would be included in any agreement in limiting the use of strategic nuclear weapons. But they added that the United States does not look to the summit meeting as a deadline for rushing agreements to a conclusion.

Rogers listed other accords which he said might be ready for signature in Moscow, including those on the environment, joint experiments in space-docking and some maritime questions.

Other negotiations, he said, were not so far along: the sale of grain to the Soviet Union; a new accord on incidents at sea and the settlement of Soviet lend-lease debts from World War II.

General enthusiasm was reported among the members of the council on the prospects of agreements at the Soviet Union and the United States.

Housing Program Misuse Explained

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former inner-city real estate speculator described to a Senate subcommittee Friday how federal home ownership programs were misused to steer poor families into overpriced houses often destined to be foreclosed and abandoned.

The speculator, John Morales, who operated in New York City between 1965 and 1970, said he paid kickbacks, described as gifts, to officials of mortgage companies and title insurance firms for expediting his transactions.

He told the Senate antitrust and monopolies subcommittee that he also filled out credit and income forms for his buyers. These were sent to credit bureaus that subsequently did only perfunctory checks, Morales said.

The subcommittee is probing reports of scandals in the government's inner-city home ownership programs for the poor, with emphasis on New York City.

Speculators allegedly have made large profits on the sale of decrepit, overpriced, government-backed houses. The owners often abandon the homes because they can't afford the mortgage and repair costs.

Morales, now living in Puerto Rico, said he left what he described as his very good business in New York "because of the investigations and all."

Another witness, Gerald Canavan, an attorney for United Institutional Servicing Corp., said the former president of that large New York mortgage company routinely received payments from speculators when their houses were closed.

Canavan said the official, Bernard Roth, was responsible for determining how much speculators would pay United for arranging a mortgage. The payments to Roth were not recorded on the company's books, Canavan said, and he said he did not know what they were for.

India And Pakistan Trade New Charges

NEW DELHI (AP) — Antimosity between India and Pakistan erupted in violence Friday and both sides accused the other of initiating a border fight in Kashmir involving artillery and infantry. They traded charges just five days after agreeing to hold a summit meeting to talk peace.

Indian Defense Ministry sources reported that fighting was continuing late in the night after a day-long battle.

Government statements issued at Rawalpindi and New Delhi each accused soldiers of the other side of lobbing artillery shells across the cease-fire line established after their war last December. These were followed, the statements said, by battalion-strength infantry clashes.

The statements indicated the fighting was along a 50-mile stretch of the cease-fire line, from 60 miles northwest to 40 miles northeast of Srinagar, the capital of Indian Kashmir.

The Pakistani statement was more explicit than the Indian version, detailing alleged Indian violations it said began on April 23. The Indians had introduced helicopters into the skirmishing, the statement said.

Radio Pakistan reported that the government in Islamabad

"lodged a strong protest with India" and said "U.N. observers have been fully apprised of the serious situation created by the Indian army."

The United Nations has been represented in Kashmir since 1948, after the first of three wars India and Pakistan fought over the fertile region.

Officials of both governments have kept up their guard since the December war, in which India captured many strategic points in Kashmir. Their rhetoric cooled recently as preparations were made for a meeting between Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India and President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto of Pakistan.

The meeting was set for late this month or early June, it was not known what effect the new hostilities would have on the proposed meeting.

The feud over Kashmir dates to the partition of the subcontinent in 1947, when Pakistan and India became independent of the British Empire.

Though predominantly Muslim, Kashmir's leader at the time was a Hindu who went with predominantly India rather than Pakistan. In subsequent years, about three-fifths of the population remained under Indian rule and the rest went to Pakistan.

School Busing Prime Issue In Texas Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters go to the polls Saturday in North Carolina and Texas, where a woman is seeking the gubernatorial nomination and school busing is an issue.

The Democratic and Republican primaries in Texas are complicated by a variety of issues, including a straw vote on school busing. There are half a dozen statewide races as well as numerous contests for congressional nominations.

Texas Democrats will get their first chance ever to express a preference in the presidential race, through a complex system involving precinct conventions.

The race for the Democratic nomination for governor has drawn the most interest. A central issue is a bank loans-stock scandal involving improperly secured bank loans which allegedly were made to certain officials so they could buy stocks and reap quick profits.

Two major reform candidates emerged, including a woman—Frances Farenthold, a two-term state representative. Gov. Preston Smith is seeking a third term.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, fresh from his win in Tennessee, and former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford are battling it out in North Carolina, hoping for that state's 64 first-ballot delegate votes.

Also on the Democratic ballot are Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Henry M. Jackson of Washington—who have withdrawn from primary campaigning—and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York.

The Republican party officially switched its convention from San Diego, Calif., to Miami Beach, Fla. The Republican National Committee unanimously approved the move after it got a report that mounting costs and threatened labor problems made it impossible to stage the convention in San Diego. The date remains the same—Aug. 21 to 23.

A federal judge in Cleveland, Ohio, dismissed a suit seeking to invalidate the results of Tuesday's primary in Cuyahoga County. The suit contended that some voters were unable to cast ballots because of foulups at polling places.

Tabulation of Ohio's primary ballots neared completion Friday with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey holding at least 57 Democratic convention votes. Counting of the final precincts was expected to put Humphrey's total at 77. Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota was expected to get a total of 63 delegates.

A second election has been ordered in 16 Cuyahoga County precincts and the court order is expected to be extended to cover 23 precincts. The second election was necessary because of inoperable polling places.

Wholesale Food Costs Drop Sharply In April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale food prices dropped sharply in April and, as expected, the nation's total of unemployed declined, the Labor Department said Friday.

The seven-tenths of one per cent decline in wholesale food prices offered hope for lower grocery prices soon.

"We are making progress in reducing inflation," said Marina Whitman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

Council chairman Herbert Stein said: "The greatest acceleration (in economic growth) is still ahead of us."

But Democratic National

Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said a continuing rise in industrial prices—three-tenths of one per cent in April—shows that inflation "is still a fact of economic life."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics report showed average workers' pay gains outstripping inflation, with their purchasing power up $4.08 per week in the past year.

The report said total unemployment dropped more than half a million to 4.7 million and total employment rose more than 400,000 to 80.6 million.

But these developments are normally expected in April and the bureau figured it as virtually no change on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remained at 5.9 per cent of the work force, the report said.

Stein said unemployment still is too high but predicted a strong possibility Nixon will reach his goal of reducing the jobless rate to around 5 per cent by year-end.

O'Brien said the Democrats will make unemployment a major issue in the presidential election.

The drop in wholesale food prices was the second decline (Turn To Page Six) (See "Food")

'Corp. Welfare,' We Could Call It

You know how those people are, always wanting handouts. They seem to think the world owes them a living and all they have to do is just ask for it. A lot of other people worked their own way back up when they didn't have a dime. Why can't they?

Then again, what can you expect from a defense contractor?

It was only last year that the contractors really began to realize how down and out they were. Then the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, finding suddenly that it was zooming toward bankruptcy, yelled, "Help!", in the general direction of the federal government.

After struggling through a considerable amount of congressional turbulence, Lockheed finally got a federal guarantee on a $250 million loan, thus allowing the company to continue its development of the L-1011 Tristar airbus and also allowing the company to continue, period.

Now we are confronted with two companies, the Grumman Corporation and Litton Industries, who would like to profit from Lockheed's example.

Grumman said recently it must have a revision in its $5 billion contract with the Navy to produce 31 F-14 jet fighters. Without a revision, it said it would lose so much money it would be forced to close its Long Island subsidiary, which accounts for 95 per cent of Grumman's business.

Litton, meanwhile, reportedly is seeking substantial increases in its $1 billion contract to produce five Navy assault ships that are already 19 months behind schedule.

Both companies argue that costs have risen on their defense projects because of miscellaneous circumstances beyond their control—inflation primarily. They contend that the government should agree to pay them more to prevent economic disaster that would ruin them and harm the national economy by creating a chain reaction of unemployment.

Grumman is even demanding a profit boost be written into the new contract it wants, even though the General Accounting Office, the federal government's watchdog agency, recently reported that the $16.8-million Grumman F-14 would be inferior in some ways to the existing F-4 fighter, which costs about $4 million per plane.

The help Grumman and Litton want amounts to a big business welfare program, the "something for nothing" dole that is usually anathema to hard core capitalists.

But there are definitive differences between this kind of government aid and welfare that assists individuals.

For one thing, the individual programs contain an element of sheer survival not present with corporations. A husbandless, jobless mother must feed hungry children.

If a corporation, even a large one, goes bankrupt, people may be out of work temporarily, but most of them will find new jobs—and at worst they will have the individual welfare programs to fall back on. As for the corporation's bosses, they will have paid the price of inefficiency but chances are none of them will go hungry.

More important, though, are the effects of the two kinds of welfare on the economy in general. When we help an individual, we improve the chances that he or his children will return to the economy, perhaps to contribute one of those creative sparks that make the free enterprise system work.

We cannot afford, however, the wrenching disruption of the economy that would occur if the government made a habit of saving failing companies. Our economy thrives on a survival-of-the-fittest atmosphere.

Sen. James Buckley, Con.-N.Y., said last year that he feared the government aid to Lockheed would "Pioneer a form of government intervention that would erode the market discipline required in a free enterprise system."

If Grumman and Litton cannot meet the terms of their present government contracts without going bankrupt, then why should they not go bankrupt?

By ED DOOLEY
WASHINGTON (UPI) —The federal campaign spending law has been in effect just four weeks but already it is imperiled by widespread non-compliance and congressional pressure to eliminate its most important disclosure provisions.

Described as the first major reform of federal election financing laws in nearly 50 years, the new act is also highly complex—requiring an overwhelming amount of book-keeping by presidential, Senate and House candidates. Many political committees apparently have not registered, as required by the law, and a number of candidates and their fund-raising committees have failed to meet deadlines for filing reports on political expenditures and donations. The growing list of violations—punishable by stiff fines and jail sentences if enforced—have resulted in a confused response from election officials and prompted cries in the House for changes in the law. Amendments Prepared The lack of compliance has reduced the effectiveness of the law which in addition to limiting political advertising also requires timely reporting of all donations over $100 so that voters can know who is bankrolling the candidates. Against this background of what one congressman described as "contagious non-compliance," members of the House Administration Committee are preparing amendments to the law to replace two pre-voting reports with one report 10 days before elections and another 30 days after the voting.

The proposed revision in the law also would reduce the present quarterly reporting procedure to just two reports each election year.

The possibility the law will be amended has brought a cry of alarm from John W. Gardner, chairman of Common Cause, a citizens' lobby here and at state capitols.

Complaints Listed "If the law is opened up for reconsideration it may be destroyed altogether," cautions Gardner. "The plain truth is that many congressmen just don't want the public to know where they get their campaign money."

Common Cause is preparing a list of complaints to be filed with the House clerk against candidates who failed to file and it has brought suit in federal court to force a 90-cent reduction in the per-page cost of copies of the reports.

The clerk was ordered by the House Administration Committee headed by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, to raise the price of copies from 10 cents per sheet to $1 and it is Hays who is spearheading the movement to revise the law.

Hays says that he has no intention of scuttling the new law. But he says there is wide support for his proposed revisions as indicated by "a steady stream of members coming to me saying 'For God's sake cut down on the paper work.'"

'Available' Fits Muskie's Taste

By BRUCE BIONDANI
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Reflecting on the rigorous ordeal of presidential campaigning, a close friend of Sen. Edmund Muskie's told me: "What has happened to him this year is unconstitutional. It's cruel and inhuman punishment."

From his behavior and from many utterances, it is clear today that the battered senator has probably always felt a kind of Stevensonian distaste for the absurdities and brutalities of American campaigning. The late Adlai Stevenson hated every moment of it.

In a curious way, his new posture, withdrawal to the relatively quiet enclave of the U.S. Senate, may fit pretty closely Muskie's idea of how campaigning out to be done.

It may be reasonably accurate to say that he wants the presidency but does not want to fight for it in the accepted, clawing American style. One of his aides said some weeks ago: "He'd make a great president, but he's a horror as a candidate."

When his double defeat April 25 in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania brought matters to a critical point, Muskie's decision to opt, then, for the enclave strategy came rather easily.

Actually, he weighed four possibilities: to do what he announced April 27 he would do, to postpone such a decision another week (until after the big Ohio primary), to get out of the 1972 race altogether, to stay in and go full tilt to the end.

People who were with him at his home in the aftermath of his defeats say that getting out altogether was the first thing he rejected. Too many of his key supporters, senators and governors he telephoned that day, told him to keep himself available as a candidate.

Almost as quickly, he decided he could not go the full route through the New York primary June 20. The key reason advanced, a crippling shortage of money, was real enough. But it is also evident that he faced further defeats in Ohio, Michigan, Oregon and California.

He checked people carefully in some of these places and got persistently gloomy reports. Put together with his proved distaste for the whole process, these arguments for abandonment of the primaries were compelling.

For awhile, a fair case seemed to exist for keeping his bond with Gov. John Gilligan of Ohio and going at it hard for one more week. But several telephone conversations with Gilligan produced such dark forecasts for that primary that even hanging on that brief period seemed a fruitless course.

Neither Muskie himself nor his principal strategists have any illusion that the "retreat to the Senate" is a promising course for a presidential aspirant. Seldom do American politicians and voters look to the man who is standing in a circle of sandbags, waiting for the action to come to him.

They tend to pick the aggressive figure, the man with the political killer instinct, who is out there braving the fire and trying to slash his way to the top.

Yet, both among Muskie's own immediate entourage and in the circle of his endorsers and backers in the Democratic party, a notion persists that he is the best man, the real choice of the voters, the one with the best chance to defeat President Nixon next November.

An odd piece of supporting evidence turned up after the Wisconsin disaster but before Massachusetts-Pennsylvania: A poll in a fairly liberal New York city congressional district gave Muskie 33 per cent, Hubert Humphrey 29, George McGovern 13. But, whoever these people are, they don't seem to be the kind who vote in primaries.

Ann Landers: Letter Brings Back Heartbreaking Memories

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed "Mood Indigo" brought back some heartbreaking memories. I went through the same agony two years ago.

When my girlfriend and I split up I felt as if the whole world was coming apart at the seams. The emptiness was so big I was sure nothing could fill it. Like "Mood Indigo" I wrote to you for advice. You gave me the same routine—"Put away the old love letters. Ditch her pictures. Get back into circulation. Stop mooning. Don't look back, look ahead." It didn't work.

Every time I took out a new girl I found myself making comparisons. Whenever I'd hear our favorite song I'd get a lump in my throat the size of a tennis ball. Then I noticed a strange thing was happening. The lump kept getting smaller and smaller. I was comparing less and less and making more original appraisals.

It wasn't your advice that saved me, Ann, it was time. Your advice merely kept me from killing myself. You told me that one day I would stop hurting and the world would look good again. You said at the end of your letter, "You'll recover, I promise." And you were right.

Thanks for being there when I needed you.—Getting It All Together

Dear Getting There: Your letter will help those whose lumps are still the size of tennis balls. It's a great source of strength to know that someone who was once in your shoes made it back. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: Somewhere there is a young mother who, about two years ago, offered her infant child for adoption. I would like that woman to know that her child is like a gift from God to us. Her beautiful baby has brought immeasurable joy and endless love to a childless couple. A home has become alive with love, laughter, plans for the future—thanks to a young person who had the wisdom and courage to give up her precious baby.

We feel privileged and honored to have your child in our family. God bless you, darling. We thank you every day of our lives.—Happy Grandparents

Dear Grandparents: Here's your letter—with no hint to reveal the origin. Thousands of young mothers may think the letter is intended for them. They are sure to find comfort in your beautiful expression of love and gratitude.

Dear Ann: That poem from "The Wife" to the "Other Woman" was fascinating. I'm afraid she's been reading too many junky novels. Any resemblance to real life and the picture she has in her mind is purely miraculous.

I'm the "Other Woman" and there are plenty more like me. My hands smell of detergent, just like a wife's. I wash my own dishes. I also wear flannel nightgowns and a corduroy bathrobe. I've never been to Acapulco and wouldn't know how to act if I got there. My married sweetheart can't afford a taxi, much less a plane ticket.

I change my own flat tires and work a full time job. I have no fur coat and the suggestion that I am being pined with luxuries is a joke. More often than not, I'm giving him an extra ten or twenty. Who do you think bought your daughter's birthday present, dearie?

Question my quality if you wish, but I wasn't looking for my husband. Love made me butt in on you.—Sorry You Were First

Dear Sorry: Thanks for a realistic portrayal of "Other Women." The "glamor" is mostly a figment of the wife's imagination. The role is, as you pointed out, pretty crummy—and full of heartache.

In spite of your own great desire for victory — or perhaps because of it — you are extremely sympathetic to all who labor under a handicap and, thus, are kept out of the winner's circle too often. Nor do you limit your special friendships to include only those who, like you, are competitors at heart. You enjoy tremendously being in the company of the easy-going, even the lackadaisical; you find such persons relaxing and, therefore, especially welcome.

Clearheaded and quick to make decisions, you never waste time rethinking those things you have already thought through once. You completely trust your own ability to analyze and synthesize the facts of any given problem and thus have no fear of not using those facts to best advantage. Your tendency to move fast proves for you an advantage, not a drawback.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday

Tree Planting Time At Washington School

Students, at Washington Elementary School bring their extra pennies, dimes and quarters to school each spring so that the school grounds can look more beautiful for future generations.

Trees . . . all varieties . . . are planted each spring in a brief Arbor Day ceremony. The large pictures shows the event which took place this week. The smaller picture shows two of the students putting their shovel of dirt into the planting process. One student from each room helped with the shovels.

Five trees were purchased and planted this year.

Walter Clark Of Meredosia Dies Friday

Walter Eugene Clark, a resident of Meredosia, died at Melrose Nursing Center here at 5:10 a.m. Friday. He was 66 years old.
He was born in Brown county, Jan. 20, 1906, son of Frank and Nellie Clark. His wife, the former Carrie Boels, died in 1955.
Two daughters, Deloris, wife of Harold Battfeld of Meredosia, and Mrs. Gary Bunch of Versailles, and two sons, Robert and Gary, both of Meredosia, survive. There are nine grandchildren.
The following brothers and sisters also survive: Richard of Meredosia and Robert of Binghamton, N.Y.; Louise Jensen of Mt. Sterling, Florence Clark of Beardstown, and Mildred Putnam of Burlington, Iowa.
Two brothers, Dale and William, and one sister, Mary Kerr, preceded in death.
The deceased was a farmer and auto mechanic for many years. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church northwest of Chapin where funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. Marvin Ramthun officiating. Burial will be in Grace cemetery. The body will be taken to the church one hour before services.
The family will meet friends at the Williamson Funeral Home from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday.

Board Leans Toward Cutting Dockers' Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board is leaning toward cutting back a big raise for East and Gulf Coast longshoremen, but it's having trouble making up its mind.
"If I had to bet, I'd bet 60-40 for a cut," a board source said Thursday. "But I wouldn't bet my own money."
The board appeared so close to a decision Thursday that spokesmen called a news conference to announce it. But the conference was delayed, then canceled after President Nixon and a top aide met with the board's sole remaining union member, Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons.
Spokesmen offered no reason for the failure to reach a decision. They said the board would try again at a special session next Monday.
At issue are first-year raises of 12.1 per cent and more for 50,000 dock workers of the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO. Standard pay regulations would allow only 6.2 per cent, and the board staff has questioned the union's main arguments for approving anything more than that.

BODY NO BIG DEAL
NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—"My body's no big deal," a 23-year-old woman told her English class at the University of Oklahoma, "but here goes."
She then stripped nude.
Mrs. Wendy Berlowitz said she did it to change "a society which doesn't allow me to appear in my birthday suit at any time I please. I believe our nudity laws are insane."
Mrs. Berlowitz, a graduate student instructor, already had been told by the university she would not be rehired next year.

Special Gift

You could pass the tree a hundred times without seeing the bright little bird peeping out. Nature neglected to give man such camouflage. In the scheme of things he is actually quite obvious. But God created man in His image—a much greater asset. He was given a strong body and a mind with which to think. And He has given us a very special gift; the miracle of Faith.

Yes, Faith is a gift. It comes only through our seeking, and the quest is not an easy one. Strangely enough, you might not find Faith in church. But there you will discover where to begin to look for it.

mond is established. Eventually, South winds up with three diamond tricks, two tricks in each other suit, game and rubber. If East is a really good player, he lets the jack of diamonds hold the trick. South returns to his own hand and repeats the diamond finesse. This time, East produces the king and later on South finds that he can't ever get to dummy to collect that third and most important diamond trick. If South is in the contract, insurance business, he doesn't play the jack of diamonds on the first lead of the suit. He just sticks in the eight. Now it doesn't matter what East does. South is going to wind up with that third diamond trick.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
Get Yourself A Family Doctor
By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 67 years old and my husband and I have moved to Florida. The least bit of exertion makes it difficult for me to breathe, but when I am relaxing I breathe normally. Our family doctor in Pennsylvania told me I had chronic bronchitis. Is it serious? We do not have a family doctor here and I need some advice. Is there anything I can do to get some relief? I have been smoking cigarettes for the last 50 years and am wondering if I could have any kind of relief if I stopped smoking.

Individuals who have smoked a lot for a long period of time have a much greater probability of having severe lung disease of the type that you apparently have. Perhaps the lung damage that cigarettes can cause in so many people like yourself is even more important than cancer of the lungs. I think you certainly should quit smoking. It might do a lot to help your breathing problem and it would be the first thing that a doctor should ask you to do if you have any significant lung damage or bronchitis. Some people do have trouble stopping smoking and will have unpleasant symptoms which are withdrawal symptoms from nicotine. I know a lot of people move to Florida away from their family, friends and their doctor, and I know that many people like yourself neglect getting a new family doctor. It is hard to do sometimes, particularly in Florida, because of the large number of people who need family doctors.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Recently I have read that an aid to controlling constipation consisted of a glass of water containing two teaspoons full of apple cider vinegar before meals. Also, this is supposed to act as a cleaner all through the alimentary canal. In your opinion, is this beneficial or is it perhaps harmful.
Dear Reader—I doubt that it will be harmful for most healthy people. To the extent that many people's problems with constipation are aided by increasing intake of liquids, it can even be helpful. One of the most useful things people can do for constipation problems is to establish a regular morning habit after breakfast and to drink plenty of fluids with their

Return Murder

Indictment Against Lawyer

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The Madison County grand jury returned a three-count indictment Friday against David Rothenberg, a Collinsville lawyer, in the December slaying of an insurance investigator.

Rothenberg, 27, was indicted on charges of murder, conspiracy to murder and soliciting others to aid in the murder of William Wells, 41, of Glen Carbon, an insurance investigator for MFA in Creve Coeur, Mo.

Rothenberg was with a client he represents in the Madison County courthouse Friday when the grand jury returned the indictment.

He remained free on $100,000 property bond and was issued a summons to appear for arraignment May 15.

Rothenberg also is at liberty on $2,500 bond on a St. Clair County indictment charging him with soliciting an abortion for Wells' wife, Babette.

Wells disappeared Dec. 10 after leaving his home to go to the Candlelight Tavern in Glen Carbon to pick up a six-pack of beer. He was not seen after that, and his body was discovered in the trunk of his car about one week later in East St. Louis.

The grand jury at Edwardsville started its deliberations Thursday. Deputy sheriff Roy Walker was observed going into the grand jury room Thursday with a thick file and tape recorder.

Police have said they have a recording made by Wells after he learned of his wife's abortion. Wells reportedly made the recording last summer and left it in a sealed envelope in his office, with instructions that it be given to authorities in the event of his death.

The indictment said Rothenberg beat and shot Wells, solicited at least one other person whose identity is unknown to commit the murder and conspired with the others to carry out the murder.

East St. Louis Mayor Endorses Gov. Ogilvie

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Mayor James E. Williams used the occasion of his first anniversary in office to endorse Friday Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's bid for re-election. "I am endorsing Gov. Ogilvie because of his commitment to the city of East St. Louis, Ill., and because of the excellent performance that his administration has given to me during this year," Williams said in a prepared statement.

Williams, the city's first black mayor, enumerated the Ogilvie administration performance as including arrangement for construction of a new state office building here, replacement of a school destroyed during a Jan. 22 explosion in the city and provision of money to obtain a sewage treatment plant.

Said Williams, who described himself as a political independent, "I am encouraging and soliciting the supporting of all East St. Louisians to vote for Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie for governor in the forthcoming November election."

Between Le Duc Tho, Kissinger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House acknowledged Friday that Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger met secretly in Paris Tuesday with Hanoi negotiator Le Duc Tho, just two days before the United States and South Vietnam suspended peace talks there.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, in response to a question, conceded that Kissinger had made yet another clandestine trip to the French capital after reports that North Vietnamese sources had disclosed Tuesday's session.

Rumors had abounded here and in Paris that such a meeting had been held but, until Friday night, the White House declined to confirm or deny that.

Ziegler said the United States had suggested at the outset that Kissinger's trip be acknowledged publicly. But, he reported, the Nixon Administration did not do so because, as Ziegler put it, the North Vietnamese "urgently requested" that the fact of the meeting and the content of the discussion remain completely private.

The White House spokesman said: "I would just say this is another example of their (Hanoi's) bad faith."

Kissinger attended a Monday afternoon White House session at which President Nixon met with American negotiators departing for Helsinki and the resumption of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks with the Soviet Union.

Metcalf Says Blacks Want Police Reform

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. Ralph Metcalf, D-Ill., said Friday the black community will not be placated unless there is a systemwide reform of the Chicago police department to end alleged police abuse of black persons.

Metcalf told newsmen how he and 100 black leaders met for an hour Friday formed a group called Concerned Citizens for Police Reform.

The congressman, a longtime Democratic party ally of Mayor Richard J. Daley, declined to say whether the group would seek the removal of Police Supt. James B. Conlisk.

"We have not addressed ourselves to the question of Supt. Conlisk," Metcalf said.

Andrew C. Barrett, executive secretary of the NAACP, said, "Conlisk has lost control of the police department and should be removed from office."

Metcalf and the black leaders still were angered by the refusal of Mayor Daley to attend their meeting Tuesday on the problem of alleged police abuse. The mayor called a meeting of Chicago business and civic leaders Wednesday where Conlisk announced several changes in the police department.

"We do not recognize that meeting," said Metcalf, who with other black leaders boycotted the meeting. He said his group wants to meet with Daley but so far "we have not even had the courtesy of a reply to our invitation."

"We don't want piecemeal changes," he said. "We will not be placated. We want the system changed. . . . The image of the police department must be changed immediately."

Asked if his actions meant a political break between Daley and the congressman, Metcalf replied, "I am not concerned if it reflects a break. . . . I am concerned that it reflects a solidarity in the black community."

Metcalf also was asked if he will support State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan, who won the March 21 primary after he was dumped by party leaders at the urging of Metcalf and other black leaders.

"No, I am not prepared to support Hanrahan and you shouldn't ask that question. We are keeping out of the political area," he said.

Metcalf also said he is being intimidated for his actions in calling for police reforms. "I call it intimidation when police intelligence men stand outside our meetings to see who goes in. . . . I call it intimidation when the fire department inspectors show up at my district office," he said.

METCALF TO SPEAK TO PAL MAY 6
William Meyer, acting director at Morgan County Health Department, will be the speaker at the meeting Saturday night of the PAL (protection of animals league) meeting. This will be at 7 p.m. in the council chambers at the Municipal Building. All interested persons are urged to attend, especially people who have inquired about what to do with animals lost, found or mistreated. PAL has the answers and also needs the involvement of interested persons.

MRS. EVA McCABE, FORMER BROWN CO. RESIDENT, DIES

MT. STERLING — A former Mt. Sterling resident, Mrs. Eva McCabe, died April 19th in San Antonio, Texas according to word received here recently. She was the widow of W.A. McCabe who died in November of 1964.

Surviving are an adopted daughter, Mrs. Betty McCabe Kidwell and two grandchildren.

Members of the Brown County Woman's club are sponsoring a bake sale to be held Saturday, May 13th, in the Franklin Cabinets building here. The sale will be held most of the day until all donations are sold.

HHH Wins 84 Ohio Delegates; McGovern, 56

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey collected 84 national convention delegates and Sen. George S. McGovern 56 Friday as election officials finished counting all but the split ballots in last Tuesday's trouble-plagued Ohio Democratic presidential primary.

But the tally of delegate strength was still not final.

The breakdown could change when officials count the split ballots—those cast by voters who split their presidential preference between two or more candidates.

The count of split ballots could easily change Humphrey's one-vote victory margin in the 9th District, as well as McGovern's 27-vote victory margin in the 1st District (Cincinnati).

Voters in 23 Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) precincts won't vote until next Tuesday. Voting machine foulups and other balloting problems kept polls in those precincts from opening at all on election day.

But the approximately 4,500 Democratic ballots expected in the 23 precincts cannot change either the at-large or district line-up for national convention delegates.

The Ohio delegation has 153 votes. In addition to the 84 currently awarded to Humphrey and the 56 to McGovern, favorite son candidates hold 13. Delegates are pledged to support a specific candidate on the first ballot only.

FIREMEN CALLED TWICE FRIDAY

Jacksonville firemen were called out twice Friday morning within a half-hour.

At 8:37 a.m. firemen were called to the 100 block of South Main where a 1964 model auto owned by Jack Weaver of 137 Walnut Court was reported on fire. Cause of the blaze was reportedly a leaky fuel pump and was quickly extinguished by use of water cans.

Estimated damage was set at $150.

At 9:19 a.m. firemen were summoned to the seventh floor hallway of Farmers Bank building where a short in an electrical cable caused some smoke. Firemen disconnected the wire and summoned an electrician to make necessary repairs.

Rescue Crews Battle Smoke In Idaho Mine

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — Rescue crews battled new, persistent smoke leaks Friday in a race against time to reach 50 missing miners a mile deep in the Sunshine silver workings.

Without voice contact, there was no way of knowing if the men were still alive or had met the fate of 32 others killed in Tuesday's flash fire.

The Sunshine Co. advised families of the missing miners to go home and rest because rescue crews were blocked for at least another eight hours from reaching the area where the men are believed to be.

Most families left the face of the mine. Some went to prayer services.

General Manager Marvin C. Chase continued to be optimistic that the missing men were alive and would be saved.

Some of the workers emerging for a respite in the open air were less confident. One commented tersely "it doesn't look too good."

Meanwhile Idaho Atty. Gen. W. Anthony Park said the state would conduct its own inquiry, alongside a federal Bureau of Mines investigation. Miners among the 108 who were rescued were interrogated by lawyers on their first-hand knowledge of the fire.

Food

In two months, adding up to 1.1 per cent for March and April, but was not enough to overcome increases of more than 5 per cent in the preceding three months.

Farm products were 5.4 per cent above a year earlier and processed foods and feeds were 3.7 per cent higher. Industrial goods were up 3.5 per cent over the year.

The April developments averaged out to an over-all rise of one-tenth of one per cent, raising the Wholesale Price Index to 117.5. That meant it took $117.50 last month on the average to purchase wholesale food and industrial products worth $100 in the 1967 base period.

A 2.9 per cent decline in prices of meats, poultry and fish caused most of the April decline in food prices but meats, poultry and fish still averaged 9.1 per cent higher than a year earlier.

FREEDOM RALLY AT MAC MONDAY

An organization called Young Americans for Freedom, associated with MacMurray College, is sponsoring a public gathering at 7 p.m. Monday evening, May 8th, in the "fishbowl" at the Campus Center. State Representative Robert S. Juckett, Fourth District, will speak and those attending will be given a copy of the Young Americans for Freedom, taken from Senator Barry Goldwater's The Conscience of a Conservative. John Wayne and William F. Buckley posters will also be given out to those present.

Persons wishing more information about the meeting phone the college, 245-6151, ext. 343.

Crashes, Burns.

115 Killed

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — An Alitalia airliner crashed and burned on a mountainside near Palermo Friday night and rescue teams indicated all 115 persons aboard perished.

Police reported charred bodies and no sign of life at the scene of the apparent worst disaster in the history of Italy's national airline.

The four-jet DC8, on a flight from Rome to Palermo, was approaching the airport when it crashed on a densely wooded slope near the town of Carini, three miles from Palermo.

Some people attending a political rally in the Carini town square said the plane was in flames before it hit the mountain.

The weather was clear at the time.

Airport sources said the plane had made contact with the control tower in preparation for a landing but then went silent.

The airline said it had no passenger list because none was required on a domestic flight.

Last July in the worst aviation disaster on record, a Japanese domestic All Nippon airliner and a Japanese air force jet collided, killing 162 persons. Ten other crashes have taken more than 120 lives each.

Stock Exchange Takes Action Against Brokers

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange Friday announced disciplinary actions against 10 brokerage house employees, including four vice presidents, for allowing a Philadelphia college student to order $200,000 in stock by telephone without putting up any cash.

The exchange said its investigation was continuing and it expected "additional charges will be issued in the near future."

The Big Board said censures, suspensions of five days to five months and fine totaling $9,750 had been meted out to brokerage employees who let Abraham Treff, 19, make transactions without ever appearing in their offices or signing papers opening accounts. Treff disclosed his dealings in January, saying he had placed his first order Nov. 30.

Treff said his activities were prompted by a discussion with friends of the effectiveness of consumer crusader Ralph Nader. He said his transactions, which yielded no profit, were intended to show brokers were more concerned about commission earnings than in the persons placing orders.

"I think it is uncalled for," Treff said of the Big Board actions. "As long as salesmen are paid by commissions they generate, there is always going to be trouble on Wall Street."

None of the brokerage houses involved in Friday's actions would comment.

Treff's disclosure of the hoax last January embarrassed the exchange and the securities industry even though only six of the 25 brokerage representatives the youth called opened accounts for him.

ASHLAND RITES FOR MARTHA BAST

Dry Evanston Awaits John Barleycorn

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — After 110 years of being dry, Evanston's cork-popping celebration in voting to turn wet has to be delayed for at least another week.

The repeal of prohibition in this traditionally dry northern suburb of Chicago—home of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union—came by an 11-6 vote of the City Council Jan. 4. It permitted sale of liquor by the drink in clubs, hotels and restaurants.

"Eight city liquor licenses were issued this week after intensive checking, investigating and interviewing," said Edgar Vanneman Jr., Evanston Mayor.

Two restaurants and a hotel immediately set up cork-popping plans for Sunday. Then they ran afoul of red tape.

When they applied Wednesday for the required state liquor licenses they were told by the Illinois Liquor Control Commission that it will take about 10 days for approval of applications.

"Applications from Evanston are something new to us to say the least," said Edwin Deuss, commission secretary. "They have been turned over to our attorney for analysis and decision. We regret the inconvenience and hopefully will be able to grant state liquor licenses to the applicants in about 10 days."

One restaurant owner said: "After 110 years, I guess several more days of the drought won't matter too much."

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Eugene Lang believes that the solution to the U.S. balance of payments deficit might lie with the nation's small businesses, the "garage enterprises" rather than the exporting behemoths.

He uses these figures to explain his position:
Of 300,000 U.S. manufacturers of all sizes, fewer than 4 per cent have any export business. They are introverts. Not much more extroverted are hundreds more whose exports are less than $25,000 a year.

If only 25,000 companies, or far less than 10 per cent of the introverts, obtained an average of $100,000 a year in foreign revenues, $2.5 billion would be added to the bottom line of our balance of payments.

"We could wipe out our foreign trade deficit in manufactured products," said Lang.

As founder of REFACT Technology Development Corporation, which helps small manufacturers earn money from exporting technology, Lang has the frustration of knowing that thousands of small manufacturers could be exporting almost effortlessly but aren't.

Small companies don't have the knowledge of foreign markets. They don't have the credit resources. And, he feels, they don't have government support.

That support, he claims, is reserved for the larger companies.

Lang, in a recent speech to the National Industrial Marketing Conference, said he believes that many small companies have valuable technology to sell in the form of special product design, special application facilities, special manufacturing techniques.

These distinctive elements may be covered by patents, associated with trademarks or, they may, as confidential know-how, constitute a valuable property right. They make up a small company's "proprietary package."

It is this package, says Lang, that often can be exported in the form of manufacturing licenses or joint venture arrangements. He asks: Why shouldn't the same techniques that worked domestically work abroad also?

In the hands of the right overseas licensee, he claims, technology enables penetration of foreign markets without diverting capital, or management and engineering talent.

The format for making such exports feasible, Lang feels, is through the concept of the Small Business Export Trade Corporation. Each SBETC would handle the exports of at least five manufacturers at its own risk and expense.

To encourage formation of SBETCs, special tax benefits would be offered, in addition to the 50 per cent tax deferral on profits permitted to DISCs.

He has made his thoughts known to the Commerce Department and is now working on details of a bill that he hopes will attract congressional interest.

Houses Are Cheaper, But

By CARLTON SMITH
Can it actually be true that, with the price of nearly everything else headed out of sight, you can buy a house today for less than you would have paid three years ago?

Well, you can look at one set of figures and they'll tell you, yes, the selling price of the average newly built house is lower now than in 1969. These are the figures being broadcast as glad tidings by the housing industry, along with the fact that last year saw an all-time record number of "new dwelling starts"....all adding up to lots of houses, lower prices, a time to buy.

But you can look at another set of figures which, alas, tell quite a different story. The price of a house is lower (just a bit), because houses have been getting smaller. The price per square foot has risen sharply — more than 20 per cent.

It's like a box of breakfast food costing a couple of cents less, because the manufacturer has taken a fifth of the breakfast food out of the box. If you want to buy the same amount of cereal — or house — it costs more today, a lot more.

The "prices are lower" figures show a drop of about 2 per cent in the past three years. The average price of a new home, as reported by the National Consumer Finance Association:

1969:	$25,000
1970:	23,300
1971 (est.):	25,100

But, the NFCA notes, "when prices are related to size, there is a steady increase." The cost per square foot during the same period rose from $16.15 to $17.71, to $19.92 — an increase of 23 1-3rd per cent.

On that basis, the average house of 1,585 square feet that sold in 1969 for $25,000 would carry a $31,573 price tag in 1971.

What actually happened, of course, was that to keep prices from skyrocketing in that fashion, builders cut down on size. The average 1971 house, selling for $500 less, had a fifth of the interior living space lopped off, compared to the '69 house. Or, to look at it another way, the house has had $5,474 worth of floor space lopped off, and you can buy it for $500 less.

So yes, it's true that if you go shopping for a house today, you'll find prices down...for little houses. If you can't afford the larger size you can always go on a diet and get smaller, so you'll fit in the little houses. Food prices being what they are, you'll probably be eating less anyway, so you can see how everything always works out for the best in this best of all possible worlds.

One other possible solution: Buy a used house. The average price of new homes, the NFCA reports, has been about 50 per cent greater than the price of existing homes.

STRONG DEMAND PUSHES SOYBEAN, GRAIN PRICES UP

CHICAGO (AP) — A strong, active demand pushed commodity futures prices 1 to 2 cents higher on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

Soybean oil gained 10 points and soybean meal advanced 25 cents a ton. Iced broilers were irregular.

The demand for the grain futures was influenced to a degree by a somewhat bullish interpretation of the current dockworker's situation on the West Coast.

The sizable wage gain negotiated some time ago will be acted upon by the wage board Monday. The trade was optimistic that the longshoremen would be satisfied.

As a result, futures were actively bought, generally on the theory there would be no work stoppage. Soybeans advanced 2 cents, wheat 1 1/4 cents and corn and oats around 1 cent.

Trade was fairly active and mixed. As prices advanced, there was some apparent short-covering in the wheat and corn pits.

There was a fair amount of export business transacted overnight and this tended to influence some buying interest.

Rain over scattered sections of the Midwest added to the woes of farmers seeking to complete field work and this tended to influence buyers also.

After about an hour, soybeans were 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel higher, May 3.48 1/4; wheat was 1/4 to 1 1/4 cents higher, May 1.62; corn was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May 1.22 1/4 and oats were 1/2 to 1/4 higher, May 68 1/4.

MIDGET DRIVING?
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Authorities turned an 11-year-old girl over to her parents Thursday after stopping her for driving erratically on a local freeway.

Deputy Sheriff David Smukowski said that when he stopped the station wagon, the young driver pulled out a license which she insisted was hers by telling him she was a midjet.

The youngster, whose parents said she never had driven before, later told authorities she was going to visit her grandmother with three younger girls as her passengers. The license was found to be her mother's and the vehicle to be the family car.

NEW YORK (AP) — The recently depressed stock market Friday gave its best performance of the week. Trading was slow.

As in all other sessions during the week, developments involving the Vietnam war left a deep imprint on the market.

Prices turned sharply upward after report in a Paris newspaper that the United States had accepted in secret talks two key peace demands of the North Vietnamese. The rally faltered when the Pentagon announced that U.S. Marines might land in Vietnam to protect U.S. withdrawals or threatened military bases.

Analysts said a further depressed came when the U.S. State Department said there was no basis for the newspaper report of an agreement on peace terms.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been up nearly 6 points, finished ahead 3.92 at 941.23. Advances on the New York Stock Exchange were narrowly ahead of advances.

The gainers included motors, aircrafts, airlines, and drugs. Farm implements and building materials were lower. All other groups were mixed.

Big Board volume declined to 13.21 million shares from 14.76 million Thursday. On the American Stock Exchange, volume declined to 3.47 million shares from 3.85 million Thursday.

The Dow average had skidded some 20 points in the first three sessions of the week as the market retreated on a broad front.

The most-active Big Board issue for the third straight session was American Motors, unchanged at 9 1/2 on a volume of 389,000 shares. The company reported a substantial profit in its March quarter compared with a loss a year earlier.

Of the 1,733 issues reported on the Big Board, 763 advanced, and 632 declined. New yearly lows were reached by 72 issues and highs by 23.

Of the 1,185 issues traded on the American Stock Exchange, 459 advanced, and 405 declined.

The Associated Press 60 stock index rose 1.2 to 332.2. Industrials were up 3.1, rails were up .1, and utilities were unchanged.

The number of blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board dropped to 90 from a revised total of 139 Thursday.

The largest block was 169,700 shares of Florida Power & Light, which traded at 60, off 1 1/4.

CHIPS TELLS PLANS FOR $140 MILLION GENERATING PLANT

NEWTON, Ill. (UPI) — The Central Illinois Public Service Co. has announced plans for the development of a $140 million electrical generating complex on an 8,000-acre tract seven miles southwest of there.

K.E. Bowen, president of the utility, said Thursday that an initial 6,000 kilowatt generating station was scheduled for completion in early 1977. He said work would begin this fall with the construction of a dam on Weather Creek.

An estimated 200 million tons of coal from Illinois mines was to be used annually to provide fuel for the generating plant. Bowen said the company would have modern environmental protection facilities.

When completed, the plant will supply power to 540 communities and will provide natural gas for 245 communities. Bowen said the total generating capacity of the station would reach 2.5 million kilowatts.

The number of blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board dropped to 90 from a revised total of 139 Thursday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been up nearly 6 points, finished ahead 3.92 at 941.23. Advances on the New York Stock Exchange were narrowly ahead of advances.

The gainers included motors, aircrafts, airlines, and drugs. Farm implements and building materials were lower. All other groups were mixed.

Big Board volume declined to 13.21 million shares from 14.76 million Thursday. On the American Stock Exchange, volume declined to 3.47 million shares from 3.85 million Thursday.

The Dow average had skidded some 20 points in the first three sessions of the week as the market retreated on a broad front.

The most-active Big Board issue for the third straight session was American Motors, unchanged at 9 1/2 on a volume of 389,000 shares. The company reported a substantial profit in its March quarter compared with a loss a year earlier.

Of the 1,733 issues reported on the Big Board, 763 advanced, and 632 declined. New yearly lows were reached by 72 issues and highs by 23.

Of the 1,185 issues traded on the American Stock Exchange, 459 advanced, and 405 declined.

The Associated Press 60 stock index rose 1.2 to 332.2. Industrials were up 3.1, rails were up .1, and utilities were unchanged.

The number of blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board dropped to 90 from a revised total of 139 Thursday.

The largest block was 169,700 shares of Florida Power & Light, which traded at 60, off 1 1/4.

For members of the Pilot Club of Jacksonville, the highlight of the 34th annual district convention, held at the Sheraton-Chicago April 21, 22, 23, was the announcement that a Jacksonville Pilot, Miss Vae Rose Fultz, had been named District 12's professional handicapped woman of the year. Shown second from the left above is Miss Fultz receiving an engraved bronze plaque from Miss Jean Larson of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, governor of District 12. At the left is the president of Pilot International, Mrs. Fred Keever of Kannapolis, N.C., and on the right Mrs. C. Y. Rowe, president of the Jacksonville club.

Sponsored jointly by the Pilot clubs of Jacksonville and Springfield, Miss Fultz's record national for competition with will be submitted to Pilot International for competition with the winners in the other 18 Pilot districts. Presentation of the international award will be a feature of the international convention to be held in San Francisco in July.

At ISD
Miss Fultz, presently a psychologist in the educational clinical services department at Illinois School for the Deaf, holds a bachelor of science degree from Kansas State College and a master of science degree from the University of Kansas. She taught in the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita and at the Kansas School for the Deaf in Olathe prior to joining the staff of the vocational rehabilitation unit at the Missouri School for the Deaf in Fulton. She came to Jacksonville in May of 1971.

Miss Fultz has achieved her professional status in spite of the double handicap of a severe hearing loss and cerebral palsy, attending public schools all of her life. Without the benefit of a hearing aid until she was a teenager, her success can be attributed to the help and encouragement of her mother, plus her own indomitable will.

Others Present
Attending the convention with the award winner were Mrs. Rowe, who served on the credentials and registration committee; Mrs. Arthur Samore, chairman of the election committee; Mrs. R. J. Kaufmann, Sr. and Mrs. Marion Thorn, incoming president of the Jacksonville club.

The slogan of Governor Larson's year, Enthusiasm Is Contagious, was evident in the decorations at the convention and in talks given by the two members representing the Pilot International executive committee, President Keever and Mrs. Doris Hammett, director. At the Saturday luncheon Mrs. Hammett used as her topic, You Can't Turn Back the Clock, and at the banquet Mrs. Keever stressed the value of Blue Chip Enthusiasm. Workshops and business sessions pointed out the accomplishments of clubs during the past year and projected plans for even more service during the coming year.

District 12 is made up of Pilot Clubs in the six states of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin. New officers installed Sunday morning included an Illinois governor, Mrs. Irene Davis of Bloomington, with other officers from St. Paul, Minnesota and Omaha, Nebraska, the latter city being the location of the 1973 convention.

Memory Is Man's Magic Baton

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Every man holds a magic baton in his heart.

It is called memory. With it he can dismiss fears of the future and calm the turbulence of today by restoring and enjoying the serenity of a past time. It is perhaps only by the reassurance that memory provides us that human beings are able to endure this world with the fortitude we do.

You've got a lot to conjure up if you can look back and remember when—Only an exhibitionist changed his underwear more than once a week.

More corn was popped at home over the kitchen stove than in electric machines in the lobbies of movie houses. One of the nice things about being born into a small family was that a hungry kid usually could have seconds at dinner.

In a large family a boy who didn't put enough on his plate to satisfy him at the first pass-around was out of luck.

The straw boss in the factory always gave you a lighter work load if you played on the company baseball team on Sundays.

A husband didn't necessarily wind up in the divorce courts if he told his wife that a woman's place was in the kitchen. But, all in all, women really ruled the roost in those days, just as they do now, but they did it without climbing up on the roof and bragging about it. The height of anonymity in America was to carry the big bass drum in a small town band for the guy behind you to beat.

As vitamins were discovered one after the other, it was widely predicted that soon everybody in the nation would be healthy and stay that way. The majority of people were more afraid of dying of pneumonia or tuberculosis than of heart disease.

Every small boy thought the best way to win a girl's heart was to ride nonchalantly past her home on Saturday afternoon on a bicycle without holding on to the handlebars. This probably caused more broken bones than any other sure way to success they did, it usually was only a few sticks of furniture, a mortgage, and a couple of mules—not money, stocks or bonds.

It was pretty hard to find a business tycoon who hadn't, as a boy, either delivered the local clowns and you cannot help but be pleased with the shine. Paper towels are fine for the polishing, I think. — MRS. K. W.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I cannot wear elastic-topped anklets because of circulatory trouble so have a terrible time buying appropriate socks. I can get a good grade in stretch nylon but they work down my heel into my shoe so are worse than nothing. Has anyone a remedy for this? I buy the largest size so it is not that they are too short in the foot. The nonstretch kind are always a heavier weight and these light ones are fine until I walk. Hoping for a solution. — MRS. L. DEAR POLLY — I know many of the girls are like I am in that they cannot stand dingy windows. I have used window cleanser, ammonia and deter-out with stains and one rebate for paying cash at the store and I feel the sales tax has already been paid. I paid tax on the full amount at the store where I got the stamps and I get no rebate on that tax.

Square Pegs Go In Round Holes

"Would you mind telling me," I asked my son, "why the flour is in the potato bin?"

There was a logical explanation. I bought a large box of tea bags. He put away the groceries when I returned from the market. The tea bags fit into the coffee canister. He switched the coffee to the sugar canister, the sugar to the flour canister.

We finally found the potatoes sprouting under the kitchen sink in a damp mop bucket. I don't know if others have the same problem, but at our house nothing fits into the proper place.

For example, our kitchen is designed for a refrigerator to fit under a cabinet. Our refrigerator does not fit under the cabinet and is, therefore, placed on the opposite side of the kitchen, where it blocks half the doorway into the dining room.

We have a table that does fit under the cabinet. However, none of us fits under the cabinet. So, when getting up from a chair at the table, it is necessary to remember to duck.

A broom closet won't hold the push-type broom we use. A new square toaster is too wide for the cupboard. The blender and mixer are too tall. We keep them on the counter, thereby eliminating work room.

So, we work at the table. Which is very inconvenient if we want to stand up while working because, remember, we don't fit under that cupboard. We buy giant, economy-sized packages because we are a large, uneconomical-sized family. And somehow this caused all my vases and cleaning supplies to be kept in the kitchen instead of in the back hall where it would be more convenient.

The boots vacuum cleaner and 50-pound bag of dog food are supposed to go in that storage area. I could keep them in the guest closet but then where would I put the card tables, a giant kite, ice skates, golf clubs?

NEW YORK — The New York Mets say yes, they still want Willie Mays. They'll still take him with his microscopic .182 batting average and all. Prying him away from the San Francisco Giants is something else, though. Mays who turned 41 Saturday, has been with them all his baseball life and even though he's near the end of the trail, they still aren't sure they should send him to the Mets.

(UPI Telephoto)

Willie Mays On Trading Block?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The strong possibility arose Friday that San Francisco outfielder Willie Mays will soon be playing for the Mets in New York, where 21 years ago the kid from Westfield, Ala., began one of the greatest careers in baseball history.

The word from informed sources was that, since knowledge of the talks concerning Mays had become public through a story by Jack Lang in the Long Island Press, an announcement of the transaction that would bring the Giant's slugger to the Mets might be made as early as Tuesday.

Horace Stoneham, the Giants' president, had indicated when he was contacted about the report that there was substance to it and that the parties involved would get together when the Giants move into New York next Friday.

"I didn't think it would get into the newspapers," said Stoneham, who has been talking with M. Donald Grant, the Mets' board chairman. "Maybe we'll talk when we go to New York. We'll discuss it. We'll discuss the possibility."

"It's terrible to even think about it; there's a very sentimental and emotional factor involved."

That factor is represented by Mays' 22 seasons with the Giants, as a New Yorker from 1951 when he broke in, then as a San Franciscan from 1958 on, when the club pulled out of New York and headed for the West Coast.

During those 21-plus seasons, Mays has established himself as one of the greatest players of all time. He carried a .305 lifetime batting average into the 1972 season and stood No. 2 behind Babe Ruth on the all-time home run list with 646.

At 41, however, Mays no longer can play every day and when he plays he no longer can play as he once did. He currently is hitting .182 with just three runs batted in and no homers. He also is being paid $165,000 a year.

All those facts, plus the Giants' need for pitchers, could weigh heavily in favor of the Mets, who apparently are seeking Mays for what would undoubtedly be a major gate attraction in a city that still adores him.

Asked about the possibility of a trade, Mays said: "I don't know anything about it. I have to find out what's going on. You just don't get up and move because somebody doesn't want you any more. If they want to trade me I guess they can do it."

Would he be receptive to a move to New York? "I'd have to think about it. I always did feel good about New York. But I don't know if I want to start jumping from place to place."

Lakers Drop Knicks In Overtime 116-111

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West hit two free throws with 1:15 remaining in overtime and beating the Knicks again Sunday night in game five in Los Angeles.

West, the leading scorer in NBA playoff history, snapped a 116-111 victory over the New York Knicks Friday night and a commanding 3-1 lead in their National Basketball Association championship series.

The Lakers can wrap up the best-of-seven series and clinch their first championship since moving to Los Angeles in 1960—and their first since 1954 when they were in Minneapolis—by beating the Knicks again Sunday night in game five in Los Angeles.

West, the leading scorer in NBA playoff history, snapped a 116-111 deadlock with his pair of foul shots after being fouled by Walt Frazier. The two points gave West a game-high total of 28 and a career playoff figure of 4,029.

Thirty-four seconds later Goodrich connected on a jump shot and with 18 seconds remaining he sank one of two free throws, giving him 27 points for the game.

Frazier had sent the game into overtime by tapping in a missed shot by Dave DeBusschere with three seconds left in regulation, tying the score 101-101. West's running one-hander from the right side had broken a 99-99 tie only eight seconds earlier.

Bill Bradley paced the Knicks with 26 points. Jerry Lucas contributed 25 and Frazier had 24.

Aaron And Niekro Tip Cardinals, 2-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hank Aaron drilled a two-run homer, his 644th career blast, and Phil Niekro pitched a seven-hitter as the Atlanta Braves halted a three-game losing streak by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Friday night.

The 38-year-old Aaron, whose homer was his fifth of the campaign, picked on a high Bob Gibson slider for his blast after Felix Millan opened the game with a single.

Niekro, 3-2, put out a St. Louis rally in the ninth, when the Cardinals scored their only run on Joe Torre's single. The knuckleballer pitched out of trouble with men on first and third with two out by striking out Ted Simmons.

Gibson stiffened after being rocked by Aaron's blow but drew little support at bat or in the field in failing to 0-4, his worst start in the majors.

Aaron's shot lifted him within two of San Francisco's Willie Mays on the all-time list of homer hitters. Mays, who ranks second behind Babe Ruth, has 646.

Riva Ridge Could Lead All The Way

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Can Riva Ridge become the 12th colt in the past 50 years to score a wire-to-wire victory in Saturday's 96th running of the Kentucky Derby?

With the defection of most other eligibles with early speed, it appears that the solid favorite from the Meadow Stable or the second choice, Hold Your Peace, will have to set the early pace.

"We could be out there if nobody else will go," Hold Your Peace's trainer, Arnold Winick, said, "but I'd just as soon be a little off the pace, instead."

Ron Turcotte, the rider to be aboard Riva Ridge, said he planned to wait until the race to make that decision. "We'll just see what happens when the starting gate opens," he added.

If neither Riva Ridge nor Hold Your Peace goes for the lead at the start, the first quarter mile could be like an Alphonse and Gaston act with all 16 riders saying, "after you."

Not since Kaul King in 1966 has a horse led the entire 1 1/4 mile Derby route, the longest race in this country for 3-year-olds this early in the season.

In winning nine of his 12 career starts and wrapping up the 2-year-old championship of last year, Riva Ridge has always been close to the pace.

Meantime, as America's most famous horse race drew nearer, all of the entries were having second thoughts about the weather. The forecast, which had been for dry weather, was changed on Friday to call for showers.

Most of the top favorites have had little trouble with off tracks, but Hasi's Image hates them and Preston Madden's Kentuckian has never even run on one.

All was quiet at Churchill Downs Friday on the eve of the 96th Kentucky Derby, set for 5:40 p.m. EDT, with television coverage (CBS) from 5-6 p.m., and radio from 5:15-5:45.

"There's nothing more to do but sit here and wait," Vic Nickerson, trainer of Elmdon Farm's Big Spruce, said. "All of us (trainers) have done all we can. Now we'll just wait and see."

Jacks Close Second At Lincoln

LINCOLN — The Springfield Southeast track powerhouse nipped Jacksonville High by four points to claim the Lincoln Relays title Friday evening. Southeast ran up 60 points, followed by Jacksonville 56, Decatur High 41, Bloomington 33, Griffin 33, Springfield High 28, Lanphier 15 and Lincoln 5.

The Crimsons captured three firsts, a 3:36.3 mile relay time by Ed Whitte, Rod Dobson, Dean Russell and G. Haley and a school record 31.5 240 yard shuttle relay by Stan Daugherty, Ron Fairfield, Aaron Haley and George Haley and Bill.

JHS seconds were by Daugherty in the long jump, Fairfield in the high jump, Ed Flynn, George Vanier, Dobson and Gary Russell in the two-mile relay and Flynn, Dean and Gary Russell and Whitte in the distance medley relay with a school record 8:27.0.

Cliff White was fourth in the high jump and Honoral Criss, Aaron Haley, White and Daugherty were fifth in the 440 relay.

The Crimsons were competing without ace pole vaulter John Buren, out for the rest of the season with an ankle injury.

Springfield High took the sophomore division with 62 points, followed by Lanphier 41, Southeast 34, Bloomington 33, Decatur 30, Lincoln 26, Jacksonville 18 and Griffin 0.

JHS soph Bill Versen took the shot put at 47'3", with Jim Fry second in the high jump, Bill Flynn, Chris Jones, Alonzo Fearson and Fry fourth in the 400 yard relay and Kevin Heller, Fearson, Fry and Flynn fifth in the 400 yard medley. Heller was sixth in the 400 yard long jump.

Orioles Rally For 3-2 Margin Via Kansas City

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles rallied for three runs in the bottom of the eighth inning Friday night and beat Kansas City 3-2 after the Royals had scored twice in the top of the eighth.

Mark Belanger started the winning rally with a single, just the fourth hit off Mike Hedlund, and pinch hitter Terry Crowley also singled.

Tom Burdette relieved Hedlund and Don Buford bunted safely down the third base line, with Belanger scoring and pinch runner Dave Leonard reaching third when Paul Schaal's throw got by Cookie Rojas covering first.

Merv Rettenmund singled, tying the score and sending Buford to third. Boog Powell then hit a fly ball to center and Buford scored as Rettenmund was being doubled up at second base.

Jim Palmer, 2-2, had allowed only one hit and retired 15 batters in a row until Richie Scheinblum singled with one out in the eighth for Kansas City and Ed Kirkpatrick belted a two-out home run.

Wynn And Dierker Stop Chicago, 3-0

slammed a two-run homer and drove in all three runs Friday, leading Houston to a 3-0 victory which snapped a four-game Chicago Cub winning streak.

It also marked Houston's fourth triumph over the Cubs in as many games this season as Larry Dierker, 2-1, checked the Cubs on five hits.

Roger Metzger opened the game with a single to center, took second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on a ground out and scored as Wynn grounded out.

Losers Burt Hooton, 2-3, hit Cesar Cedeno with a pitch to start the fifth inning and Wynn followed with his sixth homer of the season.

Dierker, working past seven innings for the first time this season, was backed by five double plays.

RUSHVILLE — Gene Tillitt fired a no-hitter and Rushville scored an unearned run in the bottom of the sixth inning as the Rockets topped Lewistown 1-0 in a Spoon River Conference game Friday afternoon.

Tillitt fanned nine batters and issued seven walks in the no-hitter, with the unearned tally in the sixth breaking up a double shutout bid between him and Lewistown's Painter.

Illini Drop Two To Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern strengthened its hold on first place in the Big Ten baseball race Friday by sweeping a doubleheader from Illinois, 10-5 and 6-1.

The Wildcats spotted Illinois four runs in the first inning of the opener but came back with six of their own in the bottom of the first. Freshman third baseman Ed Grzelakowski provided the big blow for Northwestern with a bases-loaded blast to wind up a two-game total of nine runs batted in.

Righthander Steve McMullen pitched a one-hitter in the nightcap. The lone run was a solo blast by Illini shortstop Garry Nicholson.

The Big Ten's leading hitter, outfielder John McCarthy of Northwestern, went two-for-six and his average dropped to .581.

Strike Has Hurt Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball has been damaged by the first general strike in its history — a fact reflected by a decrease in attendance and a corresponding lowering of the esteem in which the players are held by the fans who foot the bill.

But any complete analysis of the effect of the strike on the sport awaits two dates: The first is the beginning of June, when baseball weather is guaranteed and post-season playoffs in other sports have ended, enabling all involved to get a closer look at the reasons behind a dropoff in major league attendance of more than 300,000.

The second date probably will come after the World Series, but could come earlier, depending on when new negotiations begin on both the sticky pension issue that provoked the strike and the entire general agreement.

The decline in attendance and player esteem plus the question of what happens in the future were the major points coming out of Associated Press study of the effects of the strike on the game, its players and its leaders.

That study showed: Major league attendance is down 316,722 compared with the same number of playing dates last year; it is down more than that in the American League alone, with the National showing a slight increase.

The attendance fallout possibly could affect the future of three clubs: St. Louis, San Diego and Texas.

The June target date will more clearly show whether the dropoff in attendance will be a continuing factor, which naturally would cause considerable concern.

The beginning of negotiations on new contracts will be the determining factor in whether the recriminations of the past can be forgotten and turned to future advantage.

There has been a call, by Minnesota owner Cal Griffith, for an earlier beginning of contract negotiations, possibly as early as June, so that the brink isn't reached as quickly as it was this year.

There has been a call, by Oakland owner Charles O. Finley, to offset any damage to the game by the strike with the institution of changes to make the sport "more interesting and entertaining."

The problem of the dropoff in attendance is major, but an optimistic outlook comes from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who uses measuring stick that shows average per date attendance up 12 per cent.

"If you take the point where the season started this year and compare it with a comparable period last season two weeks into the season, attendance is up 12 per cent. And that's despite some above average weather problems."

No one, however, contends there hasn't been a negative reaction by the fans.

"The baseball public found the strike distasteful and unfortunate," said Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees. "What the long range effect would be, I don't know. But, if by the middle of June, attendance hasn't picked up, I'd be concerned."

That the fans have found the players off base — whether rightly or wrongly — seems evident from several incidents, such as the booing of popular Brooks Robinson at Baltimore and the Reds in Cincinnati.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players' Association, sees the fan response to the players as a natural reaction of the owners' propaganda during the strike.

"A number of owners didn't realize 'til too late what they were doing," Miller said.

"Where management runs its players down in a normal business, it has no important effect on sales of its product. But when it runs down its product in baseball — where the players are the product — I'd be surprised if there wasn't some impact."

Whether it's a reaction to the players, poor weather or whatever, the fact is St. Louis, San Diego and Texas have been hard hit.

Cardinal president August Busch has hinted at a possible sale of the club. The Padres have not been averaging the 10,000 they say they need to remain in San Diego. The Rangers' attendance in their new Texas home compares unfavorably with what they were drawing at this stage of the 1971 season in Washington.

Finley is hopeful of a return to normal — but even as the Oakland owner hopes for that he pushes for change. "I think the time is ripe now to make plans for 1973 for steps to improve the game," Finley said.

Finley's methods for winning fans back include inter-league play between the American and National leagues and the use of a pinch hitter for the pitcher without his being taken out of the game.

What's on everyone's mind is whether negotiations will be conducted differently than in the past, the past hopefully contributing to a sounder future. "I would hope both the players' association and the clubs approach negotiations with greater care and delicacy," said Burke. "Both sides are guilty of being rather cavalier. I would hope we are all a little more determined to use our heads and not get trapped again, including Miller."

"No one wants to see a strike the first time, let alone a second," said Miller. "But if the owners assume they can back to the way it was and all over our players, they're wrong. No reaction, they're wrong."

Everyone Wants Crack At Derby

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Kentucky Derby is a little like the presidency of the United States.

Somewhere along the line everybody thinks he'd like a crack at it.

The race itself, which consumes a little more than two minutes, has an enchanting fascination about it and often impels some men to take the same wild chance they would in jumping into the bullring from a seat in the stands, insulting the world heavyweight champ in front of his kids or drawing against the fastest gun in the land.

"Everybody would like to win the Derby before he dies," says trainer Elliott Burch, who'll have Head Of The River going for him at Churchill Downs Saturday.

"As far as the public is concerned it is the premier race in North America, maybe in the world. So if you've got a horse with a mane and a tail and he's eligible to race, why not run him? Sometimes this can be very hard on the horses."

There are those who don't care.

Elliott Burch cares.

Elliott Burch does care. He has another horse with a mane and a tail by the name of Key To The Mint but he pulled him out of the Derby Thursday even though he beat No Le Haze, a 1-2 choice, to win the Derby Trial Stakes only 48 hours before.

"I think it's the better part of valor to keep him in the barn Saturday," said Burch. "It's too long a year to risk hurting a good horse by running an unfit one."

Unfit horses have run in the Kentucky Derby no matter what anybody tells you. Why? Well, there's always that first prize purse of $140,300 to think of, and possibly more of a factor is the tremendous prestige that comes with owning a Kentucky Derby winner.

"Maybe it's the publicity, I dunno, but there's something about the Derby that makes everybody want to take a shot at it," says Lucien Laurin, trainer of Riva Ridge, the favorite. "Look at it this way: for a thousand dollars you get a box (seat) and that's a cheap buy."

Laurin is talking about the Derby entry fee which technically is somewhat more than a thousand. It costs an owner $100 to enter his horse in the first place plus a thousand to pass the entry box and another thousand if his horse actually starts.

That's Not the Point
But that's not the point at all. Before the Derby field was cut to its present 16 entries there were probable starters you never even heard of. A few were even maidens. Here this is supposed to be the blue ribbon event of horse racing and many of the early entries looked as if they would've been much more at home rigged up to some milk wagon.

"There are some people who want to run horses whether they really belong in the race or not," says Paul Parker, who handles Kentuckian, one of those among Saturday's Derby starters. "I think there should be some qualifications for the race. Possibly a higher starting fee might be the answer. When you get horses that are maidens entered into it the whole thing becomes ridiculous."

Kentuckian has been to the post 10 times this year but could be in trouble if the track comes up muddy Saturday. The colt never has even galloped on an off track, much less run on one.

Riva Ridge has raced 12 times all told and only three times this year. Everywhere he goes, Laurin keeps being asked the same question—does he think three races are enough?

"Are three races enough? Are three enough," he snaps. "That question really bugs me. I've been asked it a million times. If I didn't think so I'd run him 10 times if I had to. I think three races are enough. I wanna show up with a fresh horse, not a dead horse."

On May 20, the Preakness will be held at Pimlico, Md., and that's known as the second leg of racing's Triple Crown. The third leg, the Belmont, follows on June 10. Both races undoubtedly will have smaller and more elite fields.

Could it be that these two events are fairer tests and consequently better races actually?

Don't ever get caught saying anything like that around Churchill Downs, particularly during Derby week.

That amounts to pure heresy, huh!

Policeman Hits Ellis With Mace

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dock Ellis, controversial pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was sprayed with chemical mace by a Riverfront Stadium policeman at the players gate Friday night.

The policeman signed a warrant charging Ellis with disorderly conduct. Ellis was scheduled to appear in Hamilton County Municipal Court here Saturday morning.

Ellis, whose eyes were puffed by the mace, was finally permitted to enter and dressed for the Pirates game against the Cincinnati Reds.

Capt. Norbert Evans of the Cincinnati Private Police said patrolman David Hatter sprayed the mace on Ellis after the player failed to produce proper identification, and tried to force his way into the stadium by making a gesture toward Hatter with a bottle in a bag.

Evans said it was a partially filled wine bottle. Ellis said the guard panicked.

Evans said charges against Ellis were being considered.

The Pirates had not commented on whether any disciplinary action would be taken against Ellis.

Brown County Nets Conference Track Laurels

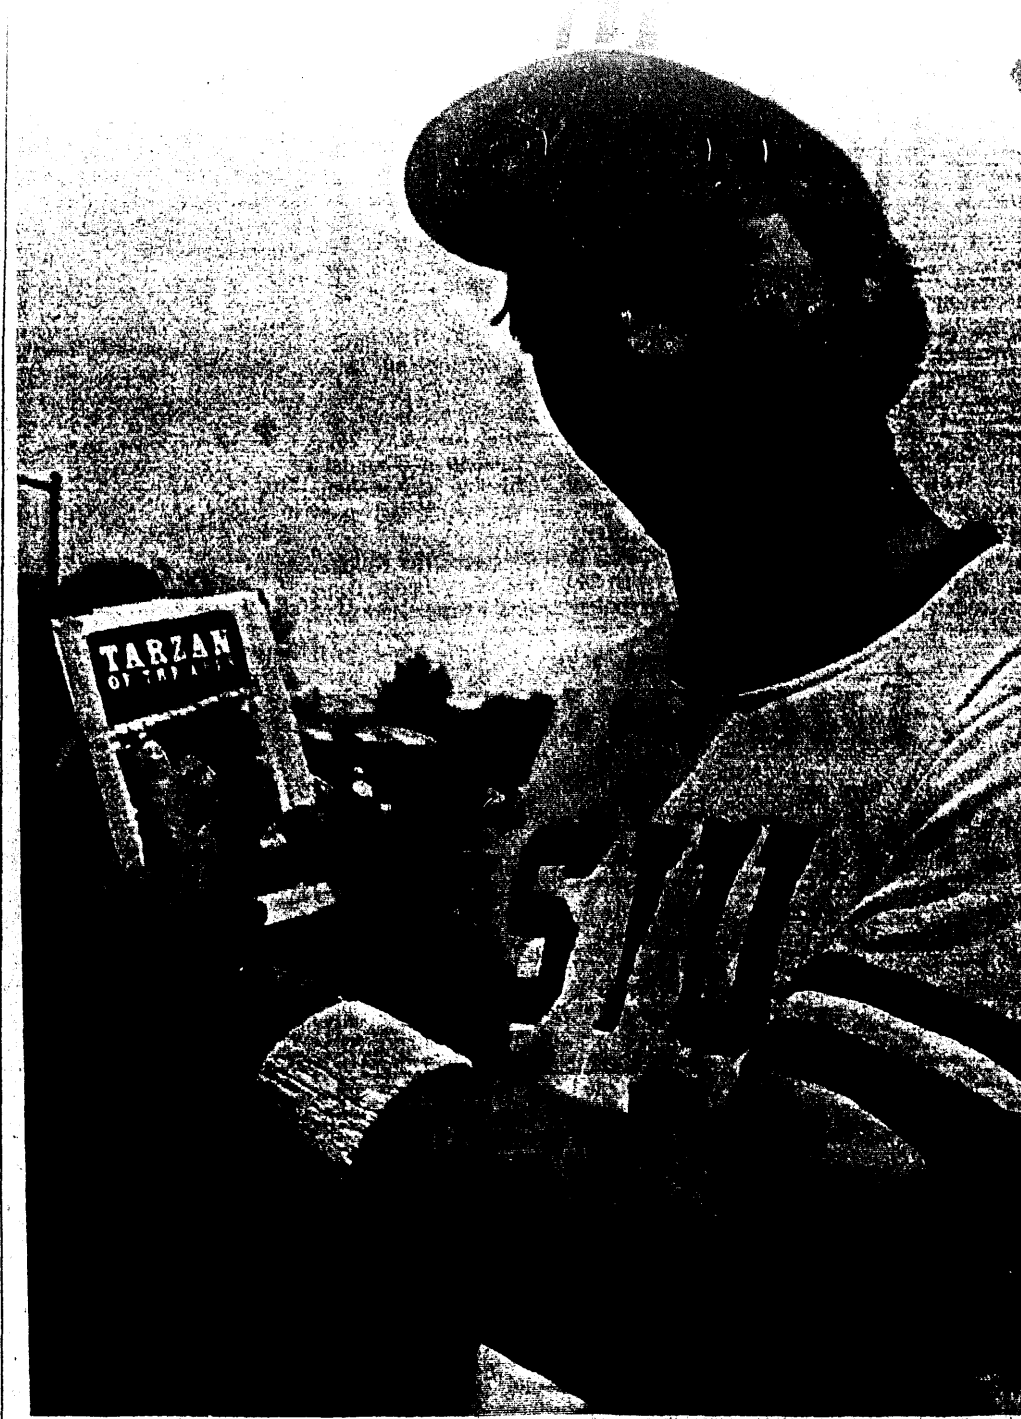

CARTHAGE — Brown County captured six firsts and claimed its first-ever West Central Conference track crown Friday. Brown County ran up 79 points to 70 by Carthage, 46 by defending champion Hamilton, Chicago White Sox to a 2-1 victory over Cleveland Friday night, snapping the Indians' four-game winning streak.

Pat Kelly opened the game with a single, stole second, took third on an infield out and scored on Dick Allen's long sacrifice fly. Three straight singles by Bill Melton, Carlos May and Rick Reichardt then produced the second Chicago run off rookie Dick Tidrow, 1-2.

The Indians nicked Wood, 4-1, for an unearned run in the sixth. Del Unser outlegged a one-out bunt, took second on an error and scored on Alex Johnson's single.

CARBONDALE, ILL.: Tarzan of the Salukis, that's Joe Wallis, Southern Illinois University's fearless sophomore centerfielder. The Florissant, Mo., native currently ranks among the nation's leading college hitters with a .442 average. Wallis, who would rather crash into the outfield fence than miss a chance at hauling down a long fly ball, earned his nickname, "Tarzan," by some of his off the field daredevil stunts. Jumping off buildings, bluffs, etc., since he was ten, Wallis' latest feat is a leap from the roof of a two-story dorm into an eight foot deep swimming pool. "It's a little tricky, but it sure beats taking a shower when it's hot outside," Wallis says. (UPI Telephoto)

Badgers Sweep 2 From Purdue

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Dave Olie drove in five runs, three with a bases-loaded double in the first game, leading Wisconsin to a 4-1, 8-0 doubleheader victory over Purdue in Big Ten college baseball Friday.

Dave Donski hurled a five-hitter in the opener and Tom Rodol spaced six hits in the nightcap as the Badgers squared their conference record at 4-4 and became 12-17 overall. Purdue slipped to 2-6 in the Big Ten and 8-15 in all games.

Olie's bases-clearing double in the sixth inning of the opener broke a 1-1 tie and provided the winning margin. The Badgers had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth on doubles by Fred Spytek and Greg O'Brien, but the Bollermakers tied it in the fifth on Jamie Pratt's run-scoring single.

Olie drove in a run on a fielder's choice in the fourth inning of the nightcap. The Badgers wrapped it up with a six-run fifth, achieved on six hits, three walks and a balk.

Aurora's Smith Signs Tender With Bradley

PEORIA — Greg Smith, 6-2, 210-pound All-State standout at Aurora East High school, has become the second such basketball player to sign a national letter-of-intent with Bradley University in a week. The first was 6-0 Jim Caruthers of Summer High in Kansas City, Kansas.

Smith, a record-setter and leading scorer in the 1972 Illinois High School Association's finals with 112 points, owns six records at Aurora East.

The big, blond sharpshooter scored 1834 points in three seasons for one mark. In his last year he hit .618 per cent from the field, set marks in free throws with 221 attempted and 187 made for .846 per cent, had a one-year scoring high of 859 points and a rebounding total of 480 during a 28-4 season for an average of more than 14 per game. He had a 26.5 scoring average this past season.

Playing for an outstanding coach, Ernie Kivisto, Smith propped Aurora East to a third place finish in the tournament: for the large schools in Illinois. Smith, who was selected on the top team of each publication which names an all-state squad, is a B student ranking 194 in a class of 620 and will be 19 years old next Aug. 25.

The future Brave has a one-game high of 44 points against always tough Quincy. Smith scored 36 points in each of three other games.

Coach Kivisto said of Smith that, "If I'd played Greg as much as possible in every game, he would have averaged more than 30 points."

Kivisto continued, "Greg is the kind of young man every college wants. He's had more than 200 offers and cut them to two fine schools — Bradley and Illinois. He's a hard worker in that he practices about 600 hours each summer."

Bradley coach Joe Stowell said: "Smith and Caruthers are the type of young men we've been looking for and getting the past few years. They'll fit right into our program. It's something to get two such prominent players in the same year."

The Phils touched Marichal, 1-4, for a two-out run in the fourth on Tommy Hutton's single and a double by Money. They tied it in the fifth on Denny Doyle's double, an infield out and Tim McCarver's infield hit.

Mays, who will be 41 years old Saturday and whose name has been mentioned in trade talk, made the final out in both the seventh and ninth innings with runners on first and third. San Fran 200 000 000—2 10 1 Philadelphia 000 110 001—3 10 0 Marichal and Rader; Champion and McCarver. W—Champion, 3-0. L—Marichal, 1-4.

MONEY, ANDERSON ALLOW PHILLIES TO DOWN GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia's surprising Phillies, nicknamed the "Blitz Kids" by their manager, defeated the San Francisco Giants and Juan Marichal 3-2 Friday night when Don Money led off the ninth inning with a single and Mike Anderson doubled him home.

Sold On Racing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

When Chuck Nicholas was 15 years old, living on a farm outside Sioux City, Iowa, he traded a motorcycle, a milk cow and a gimpy-legged saddle horse for a 12-year-old, broken down race horse named For Me.

His father was furious. So young Chuck packed all his belongings in a gunny sack, took his aging thoroughbred and left home.

"My grand dad grew some new feed for the old nag and I started racing him at Iowa bush tracks and county fairs in Iowa and Nebraska," Nicholas recalled Friday. As a 13-year-

Irwin Three Strokes Up At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Hale Irwin scrambled through blustery winds with his second consecutive 67 Friday and established a three-stroke lead in the second round of the $125,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

"I'm surprised," the quiet, 25-year-old Irwin said after posting a 10-under-par total of 134 on the 3,996-yard Westwood Country Club course.

"I really didn't hit the ball all that well—actually kind of lousy from tee to green."

Still he was three strokes in front of Chuck Thorpe, the rangy rookie who was the first-round leader. Thorpe, one of the few blacks on the tour, slipped to a 71 despite an eagle three on 13th hole and had a 137 total midway through the 72-hole tourney, which carries a first-prize of $25,000.

The winds, gusting up to 25 miles per hour, sent scores generally higher in the tournament that's being shunned for one reason or another by most of the game's great stars. Among the missing are Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Gary Player.

Irwin's 67 was the best round of the day and was matched only by Australian veteran Bruce Crampton, who moved into contention at 141.

Tied for third at 139, two strokes back of Thorpe and five behind the leader, were Don January, Doug Sanders, Australian Bruce Devlin and Bob Payne. January had a 68; Devlin and Payne 70s and Sanders 71.

Hobson, Graner Lead Carrollton In Triangular

CARROLLTON — Dave Hobson won three events and John Graner two as Carrollton improved its record to 6-0 with a triangular meet margin Friday afternoon. Carrollton piled up 89 1/2 points to 65 by Greenfield and 12 1/2 by Calhoun.

Hobson swept both hurdles races and the high jump and Graner again took both weight events.

Impressive times were posted by Ed Roundcount with a 52.9 440 and Carl Darr with a 23.4 220, second best in the area.

Fishing News Notes

By DICK SELLARS

Spring rains make high waters in lots of areas. Many a Bass Fisherman throws to the shore and says: fish are not biting. But in many cases the fish are not there. If the water is up four feet, the old shore line has moved. It may be five, 10, 20 feet or more further out. Fish on spawning beds are still on the edge of water or shallows, but on the old beds. When you throw your lure, throw to the shore but stay further out, so you can drop that lure to where the fish are. Old grass lines or stickups give you a sign of where the old shore line was. Make sure your lure drops down to the old shore line.

When these high water circumstances occur, a plastic worm is a fine lure. Use a 1/4 oz. to 3/4 oz. slip sinker to keep the worm down. When you throw the worm to the shore make sure the worm drops down to the old shore line or below, when you pull it over and through vegetation.

When water is up four feet, you will often find fish down in five or six feet and even eight or 10 feet of water.

Lake Jacksonville is now low, so the Bass are in very shallow water. Jacksonville Lake has produced more large Bass than any other lake around. The average is three to four pounds with a lot of four to six pounds being caught.

Single spin have been the most consistent Bass catchers. If you haven't ever caught a Lunker Bass, now is your best chance.

The Bluegill Specialist

The old bluegill specialist is a vanishing breed of totally dedicated fishermen. He may be a deacon of the church, fond of children and well spoken of among his neighbors; but once he takes a bamboo cane pole in one hand and a canteen of bait in the other, Dr. Jekyll becomes Mr. Hyde. He fishes alone or only in the company of a brother specialist. As a group, its members are clanish, inhospitable, and have been known to spit tobacco juice in the direction of heathens who move in too close to their stake-out. Never bother asking them for information. They'll give you nothing—except misinformation.

The bluegill addict today is a special breed of angler, equipped with fly rod, spinning rod, and the latest in artificial lures of all types. He knows there is no other gamefish more adept at stealing the affections of the angler who engages him in serious bouts than the fiery bluegill.

Very few states impose a closed season and long and costly safaris are unnecessary. Bluegills are literally at the door from coast to coast and border to border, in babbling brooks and tumbling rivers, in farm ponds and massive reservoirs. In all the waters they inhabit, they may be found anywhere or everywhere. Bluegills can be taken every day in the year, hot or cold—if you can find them. Fishing the spawning beds is one way to do it.

Spawning operations begin when the dogwoods bloom and continue for as long as three months, each bed being occupied 14 to 20 days. The first beddings occur on shallows (one to three feet) near deeper water along the lake's north-northwest shore, with the greatest southern exposure to the sun. The next bedding takes place on the same side of the lake but in four to six feet of water. By mid bedding season look to the shallows on the south shore. With the water warming up, there is less need for direct sunlight. When these beds become deserted, look farther out to six- to ten-foot depths. These late deep beds will hold the largest nesting bull bluegills. The latest beddings will occur in the back reaches of shaded coves or sloughs with a minimum of incoming water.

Nesting bluegills are more-savage strikers than at any other time and should you harbor qualms about taking them off the beds, please don't. You'll be doing your lake a favor.

Move into the bedding area just close enough for your longest comfortable cast and anchor your boat at both ends to prevent pivoting. Don't bump your feet or tackle against the boat, and dress in light-absorbing clothing—grey, green or khaki. Keep your silhouette as low as possible.

Nesters are not as selective as they can be at other times but keep in mind that the bluegill's favorite colors are white, green yellow and brown to black in that order. Fly rodders should carry a good assortment of rubber crickets with wiggly legs, woolly worms and nymph patterns of various colors and in sizes 14 to 8. Don't hesitate to change color or size until you start taking the big ones. Small cork bugs are good at dawn or dusk, but you'll often do much better with the slow sinkers.

When the season progresses to the deeper beds, you must slow your maneuvers to the minimum. Allow a longer time for the bug to settle to the bed level and a longer interval between twitches of your line. Green and brown seem to be the predominant colors over the deep beds, and the bull bluegills will average two to four ounces heavier than those on the shallow beds.

SANGCHRIS LAKE

SPRINGFIELD — A gift of 55 acres of land at Sangchris lake, southeast of Springfield, has been presented to the Illinois Department of Conservation by Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago.

The tract lies between the lake and New City road, two miles south of Sangchris State park. It will provide public access by land to the impoundment's west branch, now accessible only by boat.

A boat launching facility, the lake's second, will be developed there to make the western and central fingers of the three-branch reservoir more easily accessible to the increasing number of fishermen using these areas.

The 55-acre parcel brings Edison company's land gifts to the state in that area to almost

Nations Best Bass Lakes

Recently a traveler from Ohio arrived at Camp Lester on Florida's Kissimmee River in time to see camp owner Don Williams weigh a pair of largemouth bass for a very happy guest. One tipped the scale at more than 12 pounds; the other weighed 11. Either could be the catch of any bass angler's lifetime. The two together were unbelievable.

"The man who caught those bass," blurted the visiting Ohioan, "is a liar."

If that reaction seems strange, remember that fishermen—perhaps bass fishermen in particular—have always had a reputation for exaggeration. But nearby Lake Kissimmee has been producing such catches for a long time and today remains among the best places in America to take either a trophy bass or a heavy stringer of small fish. It may even rate at the top of the list.

Distant waters often sound more exciting and the fish in them more exotic, but there are more varied sport fishing opportunities in the United States than anywhere else on earth. Largemouth bass fishermen have it especially good because the range of the species (once limited to several southeastern states) has been expanded to include most of the country. However, the fastest fishing and the largest fish still exist in a broad band across the South. For example:

If Kissimmee has a rival in Florida for producing really large bass it is Jackson Lake, only a short drive northwest of Tallahassee. Fisheries biologists believe that if there is any possibility of breaking the existing world record, a 22 1/4-pounder caught in Georgia in 1932, Jackson may be the most likely place to do it.

Seminole, a large lake just north of Jackson on the Florida-Georgia border, is another which just might contain a new record. At least a few local experts claimed to have already hooked—and lost—such a prize. Give them the benefit of doubt because every spring a few 15- and 16-pounders do not get

The Steering Committee for the new Bass Club now being formed in Jacksonville met last Monday night. President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer will be announced next Monday night, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. at D and D Sports Center. Anyone wanting to join, please sign up now or at our next Monday meeting. By-Laws will be read that were formed by the Steering Committee.

Our first Club Contest will be held Saturday, May 13, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Lake Jacksonville. Anyone wanting to enter, please make sure you are a Charter member by Monday, May 8 meeting.

The purpose of this club is to promote sportsmanship and comradeship amongst members and the Committee, to preserve clean waters and sound conservation practices in our state, to cultivate and promote youth activities in the outdoor sport of fishing. The Club will show movies, have contests, and have demonstrations on fishing techniques at the meetings.

The largest Bass of the week goes to Frank Easton of Springfield, who caught a six pound five ounce Bass on a water dog at Lake Jacksonville. Ronald Connolly of Springfield caught a five pound 14 ounce Bass on a hellbender at Lake Jacksonville. Leroy Sommers caught a five pound 10 ounce Bass at Lake Jacksonville on a Bass buster.

1,500 acres, including all of the nearby state park grounds.

In addition to the new tract, department holdings at Sangchris Lake include 1,440 acres of park land, plus a strip 10 to 300 feet wide along almost 70 miles of shoreline outside the park.

The department also has water-use rights and legal jurisdiction—conferred by Edison company—over the lake's 2,500 to 2,600-acre surface. However, the electric utility retains a perpetual right to use lake water for cooling its power generating equipment.

Sangchris Lake, about 10 miles south of Springfield, was formed by damming the confluence of Sicly, Horse and Clear creeks in 1962. Commonwealth Edison began donating land to the state for a park in 1969.

The northern portion of the lake and its adjacent land were designated as a state park by the legislature in 1971.

At first called Kincaid Lake because of its proximity to the village of Kincaid, the impoundment was renamed last year in recognition of its location astride the Sangamon and Christian county lines.

Park facilities include a two-slip boat launching ramp, a parking lot for 44 cars with trailers, another parking area for 150 autos, a youth area, canoe trail and limited picnic facilities. By mid-June, 110 campsites now under construction will be ready for use.

away.
 Not too long ago, sweet water was a scarce commodity in the Lone Star State and a Texas angler had to travel elsewhere to look for bass. But thanks to a dozen giant reservoirs built during the past few decades, there is more blue ribbon bass fishing between the Louisiana line and the Rio Grande than in any other state. And it is difficult to describe without sounding like a Texas brag.

The hottest fishing holes right now are Sam Rayburn and Toledo Bend reservoirs. Both are vast, dragon-shaped impoundments (Rayburn on the Angelina River, Toledo Bend on the Sabine River) which have inundated tens of thousands of acres of scrub timber, thereby creating perfect habitat for largemouths. Shortly after the lakes filled a few years ago, it was easy for almost anyone to catch a limit stringer of small to medium fish. Although total numbers have decreased slightly, the average size per fish increases each year and the sport is absolutely great.

Compared to Rayburn and Toledo Bend, Lake Murvaul near Longview is small (at only 3,890 acres) by Texas standards, little known outside the immediate vicinity and not even marked on most highway maps. Some say this is a plot by local anglers to keep it unknown. But the word is out and for the number of trophy-size bass it produces per acre of water, Murvaul must be included among the best of all largemouth bass lakes.

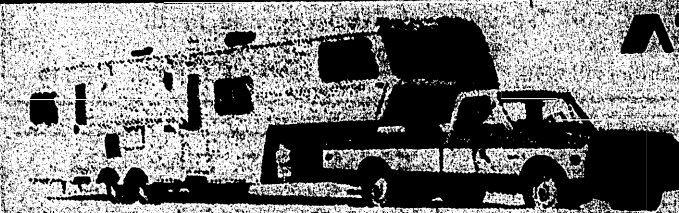

Although largemouth bass may now be found as far north as southern Ontario and Manitoba, shorter summers north of the Mason-Dixon line prevent the fish from reaching the same size as in the south. Kentucky is the northern limit for really big bass and the best fishing hole in bluegrass country is 150 mile long Kentucky Lake near Paducah.

The region around Kentucky Lake is an especially good one for the fisherman who also likes to camp. A vast peninsula known as "Land Between the Lakes" has been set aside entirely for recreation and it contains an unlimited number of free public campsites, some highly developed, others primitive, but most near water's edge and a boat launching site.

Early last spring a Minnesota sportsman was driving southward with three objectives in mind: (1) to escape the lingering cold at home (2) to soak up some sunshine and (3) to try his hand at fishing the Gulf of Mexico. But he never quite made it to saltwater. Instead he stopped overnight near Branson, Missouri, and next morning, purely on a whim, went fishing at nearby Table Rock Lake. By noon his stringer was full of bass, including one seven-pounder, and he never proceeded beyond Table Rock for the rest of the holiday.

Table Rock is typical of the giant reservoirs in the South, but with steep, rocky shorelines it is more scenic than most. In shape it is irregular enough to form hundreds of secluded bays where a serious bass fisherman can completely escape. More important than that, he will be casting where largemouths are abundant and growing bigger on the average every year.

Spec. 4 Bagnell prays in his Vietnam barracks room before evening meal. In Buddhist tradition he shaves head and eyebrows every new and full moon.

On duty as aircraft approach controller at Can Tho airstrip, Bagnell sits at radar screen. He takes pride in his work and is described as an outstanding soldier.

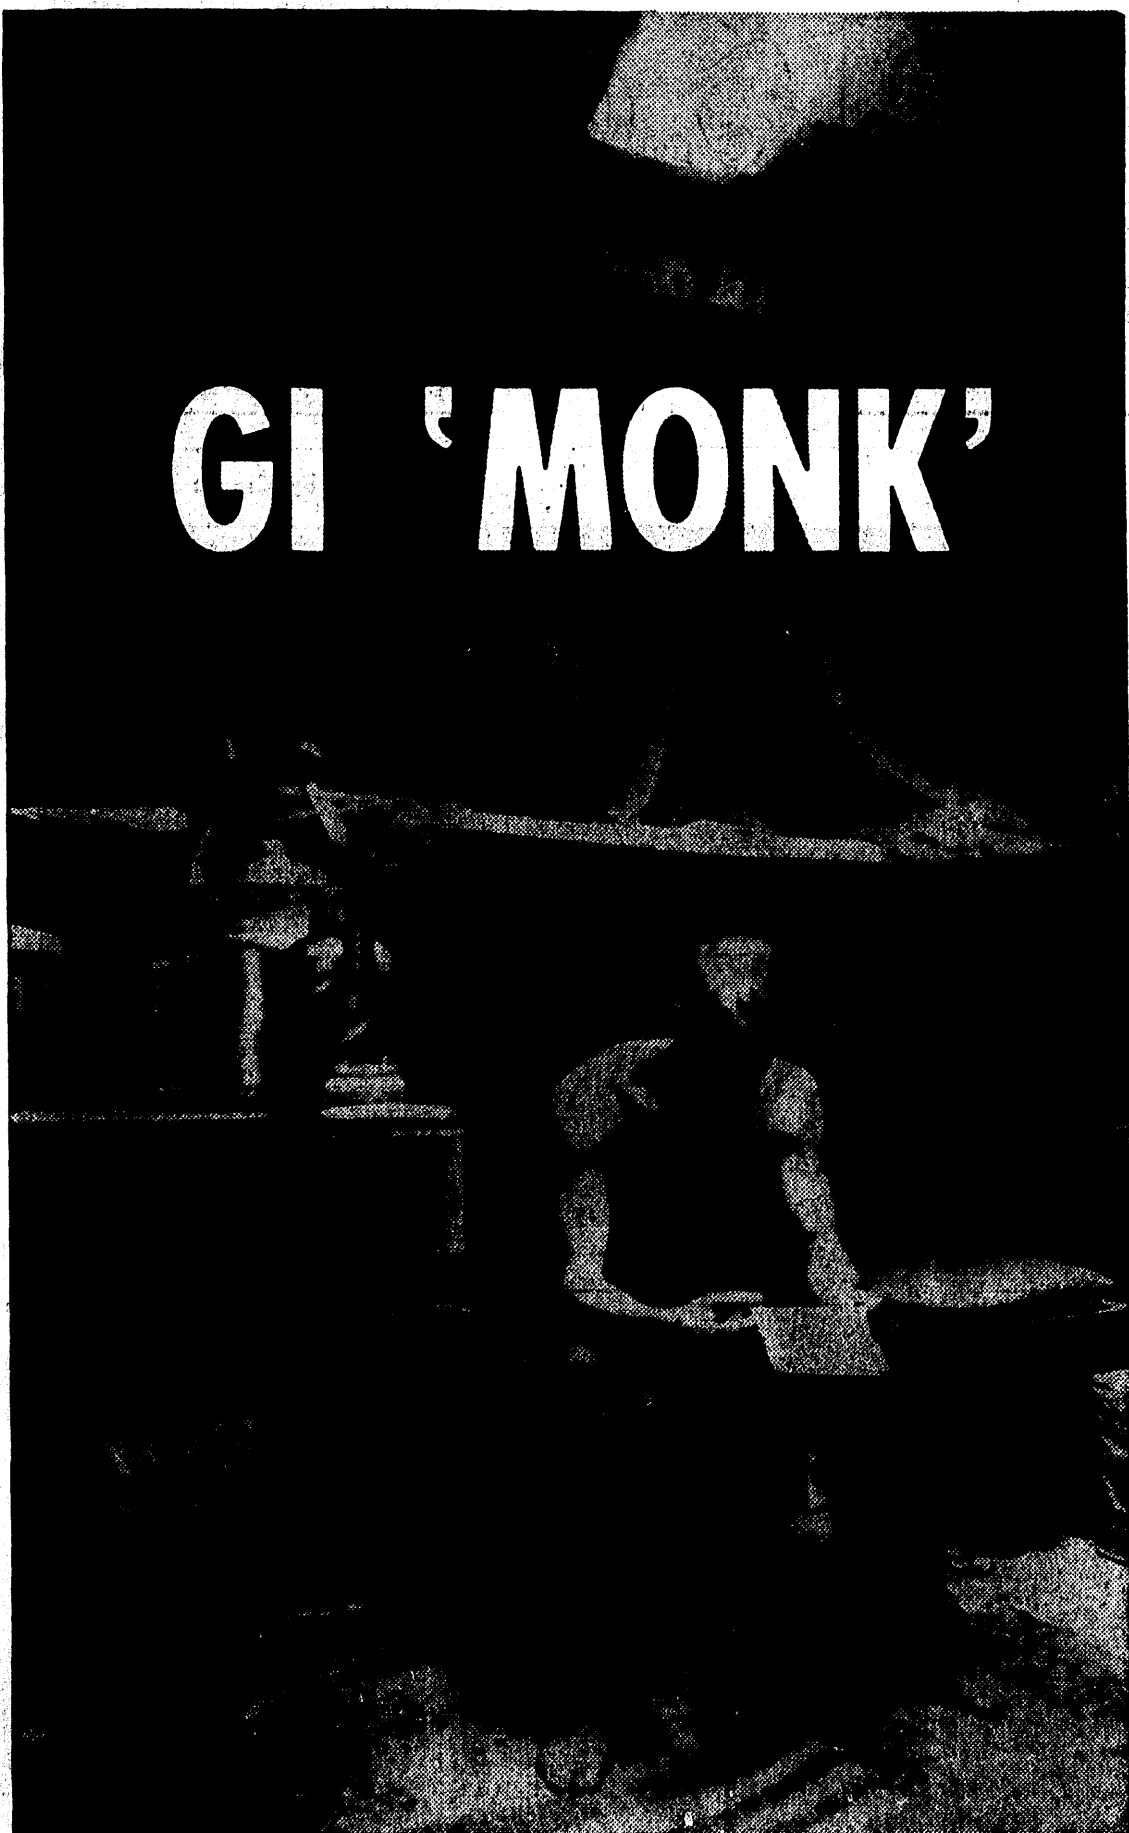

Spec. 4 Bruce Bagnell goes from duty as an aircraft approach controller at Can Tho airstrip, South Vietnam, to spend his spare time in a Buddhist pagoda, teaching the monks and studying their ways. And the enlisted man from Syracuse, N.Y., says "More and more the pagoda is becoming my real home."

He cannot actually become a monk himself at this time because of the differing demands of Army and Buddhist life. But he has worked out ways of satisfying both traditions. As a serviceman he takes pride in his work and is described as an outstanding soldier. In off-duty hours he lives and eats with the monks of the small, nearby pagoda. In return for his tutoring they help him with his studies of the Cambodian language and Buddhist philosophy. He goes to the pagoda now instead of to bars. He's given up smoking grass. He says he doesn't miss much of his old life—except his wife, Sherry, whom he married two weeks before going out to Vietnam.

Circuit Court

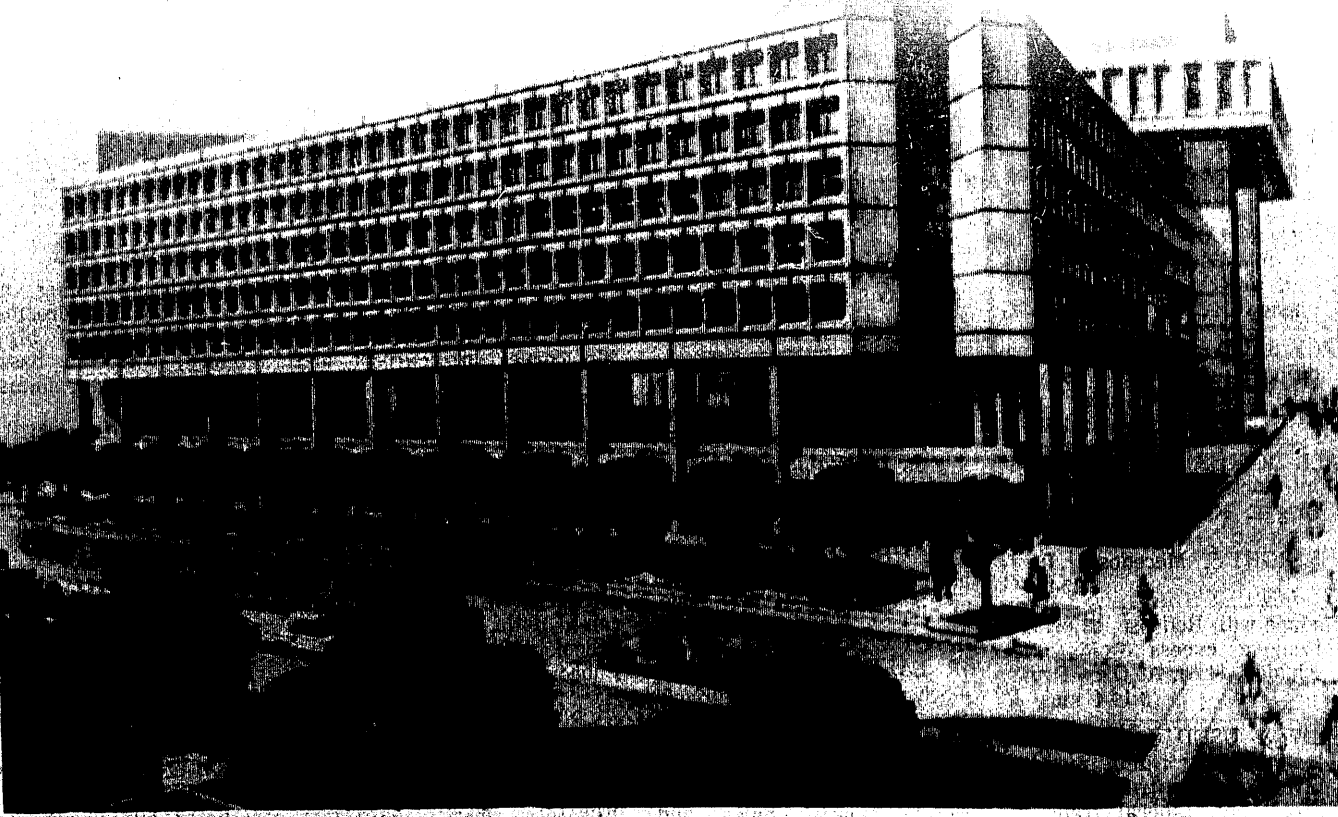

Judge Gordon Seator presided over circuit court Friday morning and heard evidence in two cases and set bond on a third.

Wendell Davis, 17, of 343 East Morton Ave., was denied probation on his plea of guilty to battery earlier in the week and ordered to spend 15 days in the county jail and pay court costs of $15. He was also given credit for time already spent in jail.

Phineas C. Pierson, 42, of Oakford entered a plea of guilty to violation of classification on his driver's license and was assessed a fine of $25 and $10 court costs.

Doris Vannier, 19, of Bluffs, recently returned from Mississippi on a charge of theft involving the theft of two motorcycles appeared briefly in court. Her bond was raised to $2,500 and she was returned to jail pending a preliminary hearing Monday. She was taken to the Sangamon county jail.

A companion, Cletus "Buddy" Davidson, 21, was taken into custody by the FBI in Mississippi on a charge of desertion. He will return to Morgan county after disposition of that charge authorities said. His bond was also raised to $2,500 on charges of theft of the motorcycles.

PRESIDENT NIXON ordered the FBI's new headquarters — now being built at an estimated cost of $126 million — to be called "The J. Edgar Hoover Building." Under construction since 1967 and scheduled for completion in May, 1974, the building (shown in artist's concept) will be the most costly Federal office complex in history and will stand across Pennsylvania Avenue from the Justice Department building where the FBI is presently quartered. It was widely thought that Hoover hoped to see the building finished before he left office.

But Not As Prisoner

Sister Mary Kaytin Spending Three Nights A Week In Jail

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — "What's a nice girl like you doing in a place like this?"

Sister Mary Kaytin, a Roman Catholic nun, hears that old line a great deal. She is a teacher and spends three nights a week instructing inmates at the Calhoun County jail.

"She looks at us for what we are, not as criminals or inmates," says 21-year-old Danny Charles, one of her students.

Sister Mary teaches under a program designed to help inmates complete their high school education. They study for the General Education Development test, a high school equivalency examination, and if they pass are given a diploma.

Sister Mary, who has 25 years of teaching experience, was not hesitant about teaching in a jail. During the day she teaches adult education in the Battle Creek school system.

"I've learned to accept people as they are," she said. "Once they (the prisoners) are in the classroom, they are just like all students."

Sister Mary has been teaching at the jail three nights a week since September. The program has enabled four prisoners to receive diplomas and between 10 and 13 inmates are expected to graduate in June.

One of her prime concerns is to show the inmates that someone is interested in them.

Charles, as an example, dropped out of high school in the 11th grade because of problems at home. Now he is planning to attend Kellogg Community College when released. He hopes to assist in teaching at the jail.

Auxiliary Deputy James Parsons attends the classes as a guard, although discipline has not been a problem.

He said the prisoners' attitudes generally have changed "from belligerent to tolerable" and attributes this improvement to Sister Mary's program.

Ceausescu, Mrs. Meir Begin Talks

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Premier Golda Meir of Israel began private talks on the Middle East conflict Friday with President Nicolae Ceausescu of Romania.

Their discussions began with both leaders in a jovial mood. But there was no indication they were prepared to modify their conflicting positions on the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Despite friendly exchanges, Israeli officials warned against expecting any spectacular breakthrough as a result of Mrs. Meir's three-day visit.

Mrs. Meir and Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer restated their countries' long-standing views at a banquet Thursday night. Maurer insisted Israel must withdraw from all territories seized from Arab countries in 1967. Mrs. Meir said such a withdrawal could only be to secure, recognized and agreed boundaries.

Gray To Open FBI To Greater Public Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Director L. Patrick Gray III says he will run the FBI with "a clear difference in manner and style" from that used by J. Edgar Hoover.

"I don't consider myself as an interim or caretaker director," Gray said in an interview Thursday, two days after his surprise appointment by President Nixon to succeed Hoover.

In addition to making the agency more receptive to changes and fresh ideas from within, Gray said, he plans to open the FBI to greater public scrutiny than it was subject to under Hoover, who died Tuesday.

On the question of whether he will be Hoover's permanent successor, Gray said Nixon told him in the White House Thursday that when the time comes he "will be considered."

Gray said, he will proceed as if the job were his for good. Democrats in the Senate, which must confirm a permanent appointment, say they are anxious to prevent the emergence of a personality as powerful as Hoover became in 48 years as director. The interim appointment is not subject to confirmation.

Gray, 55, said he had no quarrel with the way Hoover ran the FBI, "but I know I'm a different sort of guy."

Asked about Hoover's reputation for running the bureau to conform to the director's ideas of what most threatened America, Gray said that was true, "then I will be more responsive to innovative ideas than Mr. Hoover might have been."

Within hours of his appointment Wednesday, Gray said he called top FBI officials and told them, "I intend to run the place with patience, understanding and compassion."

Gray said one of his first questions to Hoover's former aides concerned recurring charges that Hoover kept secret files with no direct bearing on law enforcement. Just a day before Hoover's death, columnist Jack Anderson said Hoover provided former President Lyndon B. Johnson with reports about the sex lives of various public officials.

Gray quoted FBI officials as saying of such personal files: "They are non-existent." Gray said he intends to make sure for himself after he moves into the cavernous offices occupied by Hoover on the fifth floor of the Justice Department for 48 years.

Gray said he would like to see the FBI's role in the country expanded to include more social and economic issues.

On wiretapping, Gray said, "I have to be on the plus side."

"There have been too many arrests, indictments, and convictions originating with telephone wiretaps not to use them," he said. He acknowledged the possibility that wiretaps may have been misused.

Is there a nationwide conspiracy among antiwar groups which poses a real threat to American democracy?

Gray answered: "There may be pockets, groups endeavoring to organize. But networks, centrally controlled, I don't see that yet."

SENATE APPROVES BLACK-LUNG DISABILITY AID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a compromise bill designed to bring black-lung disability benefits to thousands of additional coal miners and their dependents.

The action on a voice vote Thursday sent the legislation to the House, which is expected to clear it to President Nixon next week.

The administration reportedly is opposed to the measure because of the $4.2-billion additional cost it would load on the Treasury.

But sponsors said they were quite confident Nixon would sign it, particularly in view of the strong support for it in both branches of Congress.

Major provisions of the bill would: —Extend full federal financing of benefits 18 months to June 30, 1973.

—Extend the program five years to Dec. 31, 1981.

—Qualify many additional miners by covering all lung ailments so long as the man had worked in the mines 15 years, by making eligible men no longer able to work in the mines even though they might be fitted for some other job, by banning use of X-rays as the sole basis for denying benefits, and by providing the additional tests and medical and lay evidence may be used to establish eligibility.

—Bring orphans and strip miners under the program.

—Permit a miner to receive both full Social Security disability and black-lung benefits if he were ruled eligible for them.

CHARGE GARY MAN WITH KIDNAPING INDIANA MAN

CHICAGO (AP) — Three Gary men charged with the kidnapping of an Indiana man have been ordered held on $75,000 bond each following an appearance before a U.S. magistrate in Gary.

Police said they arrested the three suspects shortly after finding Jerry Strickland, 27, of Griffith, Ind., in the trunk of a car alongside a Chicago expressway. Police said when they stopped the car for a traffic violation, three occupants fled. They later were found hiding in shrubbery at the side of the highway.

Those arrested were Joseph Jones, 21; MacArthur Foley, 19; and Charles M. Hunter, 17.

Strickland said the men drove him to a vacant lot where they beat him and robbed him of $7. He said they put him in the car trunk and drove to Chicago.

Strickland told police the men grabbed him when he stopped to check a tire on his way home from work late Wednesday. Strickland was reported in fair condition at a local hospital.

Strickland said the men stopped was struck from the rear by a second auto driven by Irvin L. Eyer, 28, of 22 Havendale.

Damage was minor to both vehicles.

Ashland Bank Completes Remodeling

ASHLAND — Bank president Gene Sullivan has announced the completion of remodeling and the new addition to the Ashland State Bank premises. The purpose of remodeling was to add needed space in the book-keeping department to handle the bank's growing volume of business.

In addition, a 16x22 ft. room has been added to the rear of the bank, and provides an employee lounge, restroom, new access to basement and rear exit with full security steel door. Ceilings were lowered, lighting modernized, walls paneled and floors carpeted.

Another plan, now under consideration, is the erection of a new flag pole at the west end of the bank building.

While the bank plans no public showing of these improvements, bank customers are invited to inspect the new quarters at any time.

School Board Meets

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education of Ashland Community Unit School District 212 held Monday evening, the retiring board canvassed the election results. After certifying the results of the election, Daniel Ballard, Dick Adkins and Harold Jurgens were declared duly elected members of the board.

The new board was called to order for the purposes of organization. H. A. Votsmier was elected president, and Billy Blair, secretary. The board set its regular meeting date as the third Monday of each month with the following time schedule: 7:30 p.m. during the months, November through April, and 8 p.m. during the remainder of the year.

Shorthorn Society Member

Richard Wayne Bloomfield of Ashland, route one, was recently named to membership in the American Milking Shorthorn Society, as announced by Harry Clappitt, secretary of the society.

The Varietal Farm, L. R. Bloomfield and sons, Ashland, has recently sold two registered calves.

The new animals are registered Milking Shorthorn and the record of the transfer of ownership has been made by the American Milking Shorthorn Society at Springfield, Missouri.

ESTELLE MAURER LEADS TOPIC AT WESLEYAN GUILD

Mrs. Estelle Maurer, program leader, discussed the topic, Women in Ghana, at the April meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Centenary United Methodist church.

She opened the program with group singing and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Evelyn Dickerson, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Hazel Alred gave the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Catherine Culp gave the treasurer's report.

Communications were read from former members, Mrs. Fannie Colvin of Springfield, and Mrs. Lela Reynolds, living now in St. Louis, Mo. and attending Centenary United Methodist church in that city.

For spiritual growth, Mrs. Margaret Kroush reported on Holy Land U.S.A. which is in Waterbury, Conn.

The meeting was closed with the Guild benediction. Mrs. Clara Chaplin was hostess to 12 members.

MOVIES

SUNDAY

(4) (7) (31)—6:30 Movie — "Enter Laughing." Shelley Winters, Elaine May, Jose Ferrer, Jack Gilford. Based on Carl Reiner's humorous autobiography, film depicts a young man's hectic entry into show business against his parent's wishes. Reni Santoni portrays the young actor.

(11)—7:30 Movie — "You Said a Mouthful." Joe E. Brown, Ginger Rogers. Joe invents an unsinkable bathing suit.

(2) (17)—8:00 Movie — "Morituri." Marlon Brando, Yul Brynner. German, opposed to Nazis and masquerading as a Swiss, is blackmailed into aiding capture of German cargo ship hunted by the British.

(4)—10:30 Movie — "Written on the Wind." Rock Hudson, Lauren Bacall, Robert Stack, Dorothy Malone. Powerful drama involving a wealthy playboy who finds it difficult to cope with maturity, his boyhood companion, and the woman they both love. Based on novel by Robert Wilder.

(20)—10:30 Movie—"Crisis." Cary Grant, Jose Ferrer, Paula Raymond, Signe Hasso, Ramon Novarro. Adventure and intrigue: American brain specialist, on vacation, is kidnapped in a Latin American country fomenting revolution.

(2)—10:45 Movie — "From the Terrace." Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward. One man's rise from poverty to wealth, position and the dissolution of his marriage through misunderstanding and neglect.

(4)—12:25 Movie — "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye." James Cagney, Ward Bond, Barbara Payton. An escaped convict is trapped by his past after marrying an heiress.

(4)—2:25 Movie — "Undertow." Scott Brady, John Russell, Dorothy Hart. When a big-time gambler is murdered, the evidence points to his niece's fiancé, an ex-racketeer.

(4)—3:45 Movie — "Savage Drums." Sabu, Lita Baron. An islander returns to help his people after being educated in the United States.

MOVIES MONDAY

(11)—7:00 Movie — "Miss Sadie Thompson." Rita Hayworth, Jose Ferrer. A woman with a sordid past, a marine, and a minister all clash on a Pacific island.

(2) (17)—8:00 Movie — "Waterhole No. 3." James Coburn, Carroll O'Connor. Fast-talking carefree gambler acquires a map showing the location of buried gold in a waterhole.

(5) (10)—8:00 Movie — "The Lost Flight." Lloyd Bridges, Ann Frances.

(20)—8:00 Movie — "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon." John Wayne, John Agar, Joanne Dru, Victor McLaglen, Ben Johnson. Undermanned U.S. Cavalry outpost makes desperate attempt to repel invading Indians.

(2)—10:30 Movie — "The Music Man." Robert Preston, Shirley Jones. Fast-talking traveling salesman arrives to organize a boy's band and falls in love with lovely librarian and can't run out when he should.

(4) (7) (31)—10:30 Movie — "The Hill." Sean Connery, Harry Andrews, Ian Hendry. Realistic, and somewhat different, portrayal of the horrors of life inside a British military prison in North Africa during World War II—the difference being that the prisoners are not POW's but British personnel serving disciplinary detention.

(11)—11:30 Movie — "The Maltese Falcon." Humphrey Bogart, Sydney Greenstreet. A fabulous falcon is the subject of a thrilling chase which is complicated by murder and romantic interests.

(4)—12:30 Movie — "Three Violent People." Charlton Heston, Anne Baxter, Gilbert Roland. Texas, 1886: Two brothers, both in love with the wife of one of them, join forces to combat the ruthlessness and greed of a provisional government.

(4)—2:25 Movie — "The Private War of Major Benson." Charlton Heston, Julia Adams, William Demarest. A tough Army career officer is forced to accept a transfer as commandant of a military school—operated by nuns and with a student body whose ages range from six to 15!

ANNE BANCROFT SPECIAL REBROADCAST

"Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man," Anne Bancroft's rare and memorable music-variety special which won two Emmy awards following its initial presentation on the CBS Television Network February 18, 1970, will be rebroadcast Monday, May 8 (9-10 p.m.) on the Network.

Miss Bancroft appears in sketches with Lee J. Cobb, Robert Merrill, Arthur Murray, David Susskind, Jack Casady, Dick Shawn, John McGiver and Dick Smothers.

MOVIES TUESDAY

(11)—7:00 Movie — "The Bravados." Gregory Peck, Joan Collins. Man searching for gunmen who raped and murdered his wife finally realizes that his thirst for vengeance has given him no time for love or mercy.

(2) (17)—7:30 Movie — "What's a Nice Girl Like You...?" Brenda Vaccaro, Edmond O'Brien. A poor girl from the Bronx is drawn into an elaborate extortion plot by impersonating a rich socialite.

(2)—10:30 Movie — "Birdman of Alcatraz." Burt Lancaster, Karl Malden. True life drama of convict Robert Stroud who, while spending 33 years in prison, educated himself in science of birds, becoming world authority.

(4) (7) (31)—10:30 Movie — "Mr. Buddwing." James Garner, Jean Simmons, Suzanne Pleshette, Katharine Ross. Romance and suspense are subtly interwoven in this entertaining film that follows a victim of amnesia through a series of meetings with a bevy of pretties looking for his lost identity.

(11)—11:30 Movie — "Vera Cruz." Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster. Two soldiers of fortune become involved in the Mexican War for independence.

(4)—12:30 Movie — "Indian Love Call." Nelson Eddy, Jeanette MacDonald, James Stewart. An opera star falls in love with the mountie who captures her brother, an escaped convict. Based on a Rudolph Friml operetta.

(4)—2:40 Movie — "New Moon." Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy. In this Sigmond Romberg operetta, a lovely Parisienne becomes romantically involved with a political prisoner. Songs include "One Kiss," "Softly As in a Morning Sunrise" and "Stout-Hearted Men."

MOVIES WEDNESDAY

(11)—7:00 Movie — "The Thing." James Arness, Dewey Martin. Strange thing from another world terrorizes an Arctic U.S. research station.

(17)—7:00 Movie — "Assault on a Queen." Frank Sinatra, Tony Franciosa.

(2)—8:00 Movie — "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea." Walter Pidgeon, Joan Fontaine. When experimental atomic submarine discovers the Van Allen Belt radiation, circling the earth, has been burning for days, it speeds to the Marianas to explode the Belt into outer space.

(2)—10:30 Movie — "A Majority of One." Rosalind Russell, Alec Guinness. Comedy-romance between a middle-class Brooklyn Jewish woman and a wealthy, influential Tokyo widower.

(4) (7) (31)—10:30 Movie — "Eye of the Devil." Deborah Kerr, David Niven, Donald Pleasence, Edward Mulhare. The Vines of the Chateau de Montaucon have failed for the third successive year and according to ancient tradition the head of the family must sacrifice his life's blood to restore the barren soil—and thus the mood is set for this eerie chiller.

(11)—11:30 Movie — "Shake Hands with the Devil." James Cagney, Don Murray. American student in Ireland during the days of the Irish Rebellion wants no part in the underground movement, even though his father had been a leader.

(4)—12:30 Movie — "Marilyn." Rock Hudson is the narrator in this documentary type feature that contains sequences from 15 of the motion pictures in which the late Marilyn Monroe played or starred, beginning with "A Ticket to Tomahawk" in 1949 and concluding with her last, incomplete, film "Something's Got to Give."

(4)—2:05 Movie — "Clash by Night." Barbara Stanwyck, Paul Douglas, Robert Ryan, Keith Andes, Marilyn Monroe. The touching, tragic consequences of a woman trapped into a loveless marriage by her desire for security. Based on a Clifford Odets play.

ACTRESS JULIE NEWMAR learns sky diving techniques from Bob Sinclair at his School of Parachuting. She can be seen essaying this new sports adventure on "Challenge," which airs on ABC 3:30-4:30 p.m. Sunday, May 7.

LANDLESLADY

The part of California's San Fernando Valley which subsequently became the town of Encino was once owned by the family of Elizabeth Baur, a co-star of NBC-TV's "Ironsides." Elizabeth's mother sold the land before World War II.

DIXON CONDUCTS

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERT

Dean Dixon, who considers Anton Bruckner worthy of being the fourth B in the musical hierarchy formed by those giants with the same initial—Bach, Beethoven and Brahms—will conduct and narrate the Austrian composer's D-minor Symphony No. 3 when he appears with the New York Philharmonic on the third of this season's Young People's Concerts on the CBS Television Network Sunday, May 7 (3:30-4:30 p.m.).

BOWERY BLENDER

David Wayne got some "on-the-job" training for his role as a derelict in "The Dark Side," when shooting for the May 2 NBC-TV dramatic special shifted to New York's Bowery. Before the cameras rolled, Wayne, made up as a hobo, merged into the surroundings with such finesse that passersby and Bowery residents had no idea that an actor was among them.

Ted Knight, newsman Ted Baxter on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" on the CBS Television Network, found his stage name in a phone book. His legal name is Tadewurz Wladzui Konopka.

PETER REVSON, one of the top young drivers on the USAC circuit, earned the pole position at the Indianapolis "500" last year by turning in the fastest qualifying time in the hotly-contested time trials. Revson is one of the many drivers who will see action when this year's Indy "500" Time Trials are televised, live, on ABC's Wide World of Sports, 4-5:30 p.m. Saturdays, May 13 and May 20.

IRONIC INSCRIPTION

Raymond Burr, star of NBC-TV's "Ironsides" series, is the son of church organist Minerva Burr. His favorite story pertains to a sign outside the church where his mother played. It gave the title of the sermon for the following Sunday and, according to Burr, it read: "Do You Know What Hell Is?" and down one line, "Hear Minerva Burr at the Organ."

While Jack Lord, star of "Hawaii Five-0" on the CBS Television Network, was a fine arts student at New York University, the Metropolitan Museum of Art purchased five of his works.

"WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE?" — One of the most important ways we tell the world who we are—or who we would like to be—is the manner in which we dress. ABC News Correspondent Harry Reasoner probes the subtle ways all of us play roles and project images on ABC's News special, "Who Do You Think You Are?—The Masks We Wear," 7-7:30 p.m. Monday, May 8.

Walker, Ogilvie Clash In Springfield Debate

By MICHAEL ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and Democratic challenger Daniel J. Walker clashed head-on Friday over racing stock scandals and "fiscal irresponsibility" as they met in the first debate of the 1972 drive for the Illinois governorship.

In classic campaign style, Walker came out swinging at Ogilvie's policies, programs, political allies and the record he has compiled since he was elected in 1968.

Ogilvie replied by pointing to "successes which I am proud to measure against the records of other major states during the same period."

Walker seized upon the racing stock scandals and rebuked the governor for not "telling us that he does not condone" ownership of shares in race tracks by top Ogilvie adviser Thomas Drennan, Secretary of State John W. Lewis and Republican State Sen. Arthur Bidwell.

"Why have you been silent, governor?" Walker asked before a crowd of newsmen at a United Press International editors' meeting.

As Walker spoke, Ogilvie looked on impassively. When his own turn came in the informal debate, the governor again pointed with pride to his record.

"We have set high standards of ethics," Ogilvie said. "I have required disclosure of assets and income by key personnel appointed by me, and I have made public my own assets and income."

"I have fought political machines and political corruption all of my adult life," Ogilvie added.

Telling his listeners he wanted to "take up this matter of fiscal irresponsibility—and that's what it is," Walker sharply criticized Ogilvie for "making a deal" with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley on furnishing funds for the Chicago Transit Authority.

"It's financially irresponsible to pay operating expenses out of a bond issue," Walker charged.

The statement was identical to the one Ogilvie made last year before he struck a compromise with Democrats to assure passage of his $900 million transportation bond issue.

Ogilvie did go on the attack on one issue.

"During the primary," he said, "Mr. Walker followed a practice of making charges without supporting them, and, indeed, of refusing to produce any evidence to support them."

"I do not propose to let that continue," Ogilvie said.

"Mr. Walker's credibility and responsibility are on the line," he added.

Surprisingly, Walker opened the debate by seizing on the issue of law enforcement, which has been Ogilvie's private bailiwick.

Walker argued for returning "the Illinois Bureau of Investigation to its original assignment of making war on the syndicate" and demanded "better usage of law enforcement administration funds."

Ogilvie bounced back, saying his administration has "strengthened the law enforcement powers of the state—increased the number of police equipped them better."

"We have zeroed in on the professional traffickers in drugs with hard-nosed enforcement and stiff sentences," he added. "At the same time we are treating the unfortunate addicts rather than punishing them like the pushers and distributors."

Both candidates became enmeshed in a knot of accusations and contradictions over a perennial campaign football—the state payroll.

Walker waved a four-color, slick-paper brochure produced by Ogilvie's personnel department showing how numerous state employees are now paid with federal grants instead of tax dollars.

"This pamphlet with a beautiful four-color picture of Governor Ogilvie on the first page is a waste of funds," Walker charged.

Ogilvie replied that "this booklet—which Mr. Walker dismisses so lightly—is actually useful to show a trend toward economy in government."

The debate opened with a 15-minute statement from Walker and a similar talk from Ogilvie. The floor then was thrown open to questions.

Segments of the session were scheduled to be shown on television news programs across the state but no live video coverage was made. A network of 20 radio stations did pick up the debate live, and broadcast a 15 minute talk afterward by independent gubernatorial candidate Anthony Martin Triglona.

Both the Walker and Ogilvie camps denied that they planned to take public opinion samples following the debate.

The mood of the oratorical duel was bristling and each man chided the other in broad fashion.

After making a point, Walker repeatedly would turn to Ogilvie and say, "Isn't that right, governor?" and "you can't dodge the issue, governor."

Ogilvie appeared somewhat more restrained. But not completely.

"One of the things you'll find out as you get a little further in your study of state government," he told Walker at one point, "is that some of the problems are more complex than you think."

Ogilvie also accused Walker of being a "Johnny-come-lately" in scrutinizing fiscal waste. He said Walker's insistence on knowing whether he "condoned" Bidwell's racing stock ownership was "one of the devices you used in the primary campaign to obscure things."

The verbal clash was only the first in what promises to be a series that will contrast sharply to the Democratic primary in which there were no debates.

The next Ogilvie-Walker duel is scheduled for June 3 in Chicago at a meeting of the Independent Voters of Illinois. Both men said they hoped there would be more after that.

SPRINGFIELD — Dan Walker brandishes a state booklet he called nothing more than campaign literature as Gov. Richard Ogilvie watches Friday. Pike Man Killed In Farm Accident

PITTSFIELD — A Pittsfield man was killed Friday afternoon in a farm accident three miles southeast of Summer Hill in Pike County.

John Russell Myers, 38, was landfiling and removing brush on the Junior McCartney farm at about 4 p.m. Friday when he was run over by the bulldozer he had been operating. He had stepped down from the machine which began to roll and apparently in his attempt to halt it was dragged under one wheel.

Pike County coroner Warren Lord was called to the scene to investigate. An inquest will be conducted Tuesday evening.

Mr. Myers was born Jan. 8, 1934 and is survived by his wife and four children.

The body was taken to the Sutter Funeral Home here. Further obituary facts and arrangements will be announced.

Variety Of Cases Heard Friday In Circuit Court

Judge Gordon Seator assessed fines for three defendants on separate offenses Friday afternoon in circuit court and continued one case under advisement of the court.

Joyce E. Walden, 21, of Springfield entered a plea of guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $22 and $10 court costs.

Floyd E. Lomelino, 30, of 832 E. Independence entered a not guilty plea to a charge of reckless driving and requested an immediate trial without jury.

Following testimony for the State by arresting city police officers, Lomelino was found guilty. Upon recommendation for the minimum fine by States' Attorney Richard Norris, Judge Seator assessed a fine of $75 and $10 court costs.

A guilty plea was accepted from Lucy Lunt, 18, a freshman at MacMurray College, to a charge of petty theft under $150.

The arrest by city police stemmed from a shoplifting incident April 14 at Osco Drug. The defendant's plea for probation was denied and she was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and $15 court costs.

James A. Olive, 42, of 1008 W. State St. appeared before circuit court during a requested trial without jury, having previously entered a plea of not guilty to shoplifting charge. Olive was arrested by city police April 10 at Tempo Department Store. Following testimony by witnesses for the State and by the defendant, the case was taken under advisement of the court and continued until May 12.

PASSOVER FEAST IS PROGRAM FOR EBENEZER CHURCH

Dr. Paul Feinberg, professor at Trinity Divinity School in Chicago, will present a program demonstrating the Jewish Passover feast, Sunday, May 7, at 7 p.m. at Ebenezer United Methodist church.

It was in observing the Jewish Passover feast that Jesus appointed the Holy Communion, the Last Supper. Much of the symbolism which now exists in the Christian church is derived from this Passover memorial.

Efforts have been made to invite persons from all area churches. Everyone is welcome. Ebenezer church is three miles north of Jacksonville on Sandusky Road.

The Rev. Bernard Schroeder is pastor.

Gratia Bone Dies Friday In Jacksonville

Mrs. Gratia Hope Hyde Bone, 90, formerly of Prairie City, Ill., died Friday night at Passavant Hospital. She was the mother of Dr. E. C. Bone.

The body was taken to the Cody and Son Memorial Home. Funeral services will be held in Prairie City. Further arrangements were incomplete Friday night.

Pony-Colt Rodeo Parade Here May 20

Entries are now being accepted for the Pony-Colt League Rodeo parade scheduled to move through downtown Jacksonville on Saturday, May 20 starting at 10 a.m.

Harvey Dean is parade marshal for the event which will call attention to a two-day rodeo at the Lazy "C" Ranch north of Jacksonville on May 20 and 21.

The rodeo parade will include floats, bands, saddle clubs, rodeo personnel and members of the Pony-Colt League teams.

Persons or organizations who would like to enter a float in the parade may contact Ken Lowe, 828 Henry Street, Jacksonville, at 243-2742.

Theme for the event will center around youth or recreation. Prizes will be awarded to the best three floats which carry out the theme.

The indoor arena at the Lazy "C" ranch will be the scene of the rodeo with proceeds from the sale of tickets going to the Pony-Colt League, Inc.

YOUTH TICKETED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Glen Holt, 19, of R.R. 2 Belleville, was ticketed for illegal transportation of liquor Friday night.

He was arrested by city police on the square about 8:30 p.m. He was released from custody on bond.

SHOPLIFTING CHARGE FRIDAY

Paul Eric Kruse of Wheaton was charged by city police with theft under $150 stemming from a shoplifting incident at 2:18 a.m. Friday at the Carole Jean IGA store. He was released on his own bond pending a later court appearance.

Police Seek Clues In Student's Murder

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — Illinois state police continued the search for clues Friday in the slaying of Michael Gerschenson, 19, a Chicago area student at Southern Illinois University.

The investigation centered on the whereabouts of Gerschenson's 1969 Chevrolet automobile, which authorities hoped held secrets to the mystery, and interviews with the youth's friends at school in Carbondale.

The search for the car was extended nationwide through the FBI National Criminal Information Center and the interviews shed little additional light except that Gerschenson was an easy-going fellow who apparently made few enemies.

The interviews, too, helped eliminate at least one theory—that Gerschenson may have been the victim of persons who recently had left intimidating notes for him.

"We've pretty well established that the notes were a student prank," an investigator said. "They apparently just kidded him (Gerschenson) that his car was bugged. We've found nothing to establish a connection between the notes and his death."

Gerschenson's brother, Jeffrey, 23, had told reporters that Michael had been the victim of student harassment recently and that several notes had been left on his car.

Gerschenson's body was found about 11 a.m. Wednesday along Interstate 57, two miles north of West Frankfort.

Authorities said the killing occurred six to 10 hours earlier. He had been shot twice in the head with a .38-caliber pistol and four times in other parts of the body with a .30-caliber weapon.

No personal possessions were found on his fully-clothed body, except a watch, a half a pack of cigarettes and a match book from the Village Inn, a popular spot among students in Carbondale.

Missing were his wallet which contained an undetermined amount of money and his father's credit cards, investigators said.

The mysteries that remained were unhelpful to authorities. Gerschenson was last seen alive about 1 a.m. Wednesday morning when he dropped a fraternity brother off at Wilson Hall dormitory on campus, just a block from Schneider Hall, Gerschenson's dorm.

DONOVAN RITES HELD FRIDAY

Funeral services for Edward Donovan were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Williamson Funeral Home with the Rev. William J. Boston officiating. LeRoy Hedrick was soloist, accompanied by organist Mrs. G. O. Webster.

Palbearers were nephews of the deceased: Ted Donovan, Jr., Gary, Robert, Melvin Donovan, Tom Edwards and Lyle Eskew. Burial was made in Ashland cemetery.

$18,000 Grant For Morgan Fair

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has announced that record grants totaling $5,232,500 have been distributed by the county fairs division of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

Morgan County received a total of $18,220.87, of which $9,491.65 was distributed for county fair premiums, $3,729.22 for 4-H show premiums and $5,000 for rehabilitation of county fairgrounds.

Sharon Marsh, superintendent of the division of county fairs, said that all grant-in-aid programs are funded through a tax on parimutuel betting at race tracks in metropolitan areas, not through a tax on the people of the state.

Mrs. Marsh also said the 1972 dates for the Morgan County Fair in Jacksonville are July 1-4.

Gallery Exhibit

Forty prints by Byron Burford, professor of art at University of Iowa will be displayed at Strawn Art Gallery, Sunday, May 7-Saturday, May 27. This will be the last exhibit of the season, according to Gallery Director Roger Pautz.

Viewing hours are 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday and 7 to 9 p.m. Friday evenings.

Mr. Burford worked and traveled with a circus and has captured the "magic" and "glamour" of this rapidly disappearing entertainment medium. The prints are photo silk screens and appeal to all who have been thrilled by aerial artists, spellbound by lion tamers and laughed at clowns.

The artist was one of two Americans selected to exhibit in the Vienna Biennial.

An informal coffee will be held 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday to officially open the exhibit. The public is cordially invited.

Warn Merchants At Beardstown Of Bad Checks

BEARDSTOWN — Beardstown merchants were given warning Wednesday of the operations of a bad check artist in the area.

He was said to have passed six checks at the First National bank. Local police issued a description of the man as being five foot, 10 inches, weighing about 145 pounds and about 30 years old.

Police asked to be notified if anyone could identify such a person. He was of fair complexion and wore glasses, authorities said.

Methodist Speaker
The Rev. M. Elia Peters, secretary of education of the Methodist church in Southern Asia, will be the speaker at services Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist church here.

Rev. Peter of Jabalpur, India is the ministerial delegate to the 1972 general conference in Atlanta, Ga.

Wins Scholarship
Joe Soer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soer, has been awarded a tuition scholarship to the University of Illinois. Each county is awarded one scholarship for a child of a veteran of World War II.

The award is made on scores of entrance exams and American College test scores. The scholarship covers college tuition fees for eight semesters.

Plan Closing Of Six Local Roads In County

According to H. W. Monroney, district engineer for the Division of Highways in Springfield, six of the local roads in Morgan County Road Districts 7, 8 and 10 which intersect with the West Central Illinois Expressway will be closed.

A public hearing will be held in the city council chamber Thursday, May 25, at 2 p.m. (doors open at 1 p.m.) in Jacksonville. The road closures to be considered at this public hearing pertain to a portion of six of the north-south township roads in Morgan county:

Road Dist. No. 8—Harold Cokin Road, Kinnett Road and John Holley Road.

Road Dist. 7—George Fox Road, Hullett Road.

Road Dist. 10—Everett Reynolds Road.

The roads described will normally be closed at the access control lines of the supplemental free, Federal Aid Primary Route 406.

Maps showing the proposed closures will be on display prior to, during and following the hearing for inspection by the public.

Personnel of the Illinois Division of Highways will be present to discuss individual problems concerning the closures prior to and after the hearing.
